ARKANSAS BLOCKING INTEGRATION

School Classes Resume

Vacation Ends for 17,000

School classes today ended the summer vacation for 17,000 district students.

All public and parochial schools in the area — with the exception of South Huntingdon Twp. — opened their 1957-58 term today. At South Huntingdon, classes resumed a week ago.

In Monessen, more than 3,220 students opened studies in the public schools alone. Over 2,400 pupils enrolled in Bellmarette schools and 2,100 in Rostraver Twp.

The first day will be a short one throughout the district. In both Monessen and Rostraver, students reported only for the afternoon session. The procedure was reversed in Bellmarette with pupils turning out for morning classes.

Enrollments Up

Most school districts reported increased enrollments. However the new Catholic High School in Carroll Twp. pulled away some pupils from Charleroi, Donora and Monongahela.

The Catholic High building will not be ready until next year. However ninth grades have been added at parochial schools in those communities to supply a sophomorec lass for the 1958-59 term.

The city's three parochial schools — St. Leonard, Holy Name and St. Hyacinth — also opened today as did St. Sebastian in Belle Vernon.

Public school attendance in Westmoreland County is expected to hit an all-time high this year. Authorities anticipate more than 63,000 pupils for the current term.

An additional 11,000 are expected to attend parochial and private schools in the county.

Throughout the state, an estimated 2,716,000 young Pennsylvanians will be enrolled in schools this year, more than 500,000 in non-public schools.

The state Public Instruction Department reported a sharp jump over last year in elementary school enrollment, with a levelling off not expected until the 1962-63 school year.

SUMMER VACATION OVER — The summer vacation is over for these Bellmar High School students who returned to classes this morning. They look anything but pleased as they begin the 1957-58 term. Actually they discarded happy grins at the request of the photographer who wanted to indicate that the summer vacation is over.

IT'S SCHOOL TIME AGAIN — These Monessen youngsters from the Park Plan are waiting for a bus to transport them to the first classes of the 1957-58 term. They are part of the almost 4,000 public and parochial school students who resumed studies today.

At Least 429 Die In Traffic

By UNITED PRESS

The traffic death toll for the Labor Day weekend soared above the advance estimate of 420 today and safety officials said they were "deeply disappointed."

As late reports trickled in, the traffic death toll hit 429. In addition, 92 persons drowned and 83 died in miscellaneous accidents for an overall holiday total of 604 during the period from 6 p.m. last Friday to midnight Monday.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council, said that "we are deeply disappointed, of course, that the Labor Day toll not only was higher than our preholiday estimate but exceeded the four-day Fourth of July toll.

"Reports indicate that a major factor in the toll was universal good weather which brought cars onto the highway in almost record number.

California Leads

"The traffic enforcement agencies and the millions of careful drivers who teamed up to hold the toll down to what it was, deserve a vote of thanks."

Motorists had cut the toll below estimates in two previous holidays, Memorial Day and the Fourth of July, and the Safety Council had hoped the Labor Day total could be held to 375—the average for a non-holiday period at this time of year.

California led all other states with 50 dead in traffic. New York had 29, Texas 27, Ohio 22, Illinois and Pennsylvania 20 each and North Carolina 18.

Four states posted fatality - free records. They were Vermont, Rhode Island, New Hampshire and Delaware.

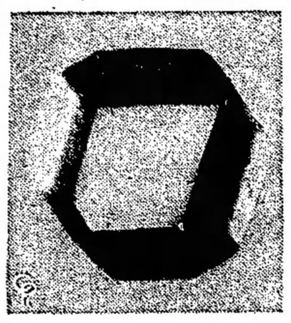
Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council, said the highway carnage was "tragic" and "discouraging" to safety officials and law enforcement officers.

Record Set In 1951

"The final toll probably will be between 430 and 435, passing our estimate and near last year's total which was 437," Dearborn said. The record Labor Day traffic toll was 453 set in 1951.

Two of the nation's worst highway wrecks killed five persons each, and another crash killed three persons. But most of the fatal accidents were individual tragedies, sending the toll mounting slowly but inexorably.

In addition, the grim statistics do not take into account the scores of persons hospitalized with painful traffic accident injuries nor the heavy toll in property damage.



POLIO VIRUS CRYSTAL — This Microphoto of a polio virus crystal was released by Professor Wendel Stanley of the University of California. Now in Moscow for the International Symposium on Origins of Life, Prof. Stanley said that 100,000 of these "living things," laid end to end, would equal one inch. He pointed out that they can reproduce and mutate like living beings.

Judge Weiss In Busy Week

Judge David H. Weiss, the first Monessen man ever to serve on the Westmoreland County bench, had a busy time during his first week in court.

Judge Weiss disposed of no less than 50 cases last week. He listened to jury trials, pleas of guilty and non-support cases during his first five days in court.

Judge Weiss was appointed recently by Gov. George M. Leader to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge George H. McWherter. He is a Democratic candidate for a full ten-year term in the upcoming election.

Governor Defies Order; Use of Troops Probed

ATLANTA (UP) — Racial integration of public schools spread uneasily further into the southland today, but Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus defied a federal order and blocked with troops integration in a Little Rock school.

Atty. General Herbert Brownell began an immediate investigation of the use of the National Guard troops to prevent obedience to the court orders.

President Eisenhower told his news conference today that the overall progress of school integration is bound to be slow. He said tension between the races can be solved only by approaching the problem calmly.

A shower of pebbles, hoots and jeers greeted 13 Negroes who entered the Sturgis, Ky., High School under watchful eyes of state troopers. No one was injured.

"Get out of here you old black man" were words shouted at the Negroes who arrived in a five-car caravan at the Kentucky integration hot spot. But the crowd of some 200 persons outside the school began to disperse as the Negroes entered the building.

Little Rock's Central High School, where about 15 Negroes were to have enrolled today, was a tense scene of bristling armor of the National Guard — half tracks, rifles, clubs and pistols.

A cordon of some 250 guardsmen and state troopers — being used by the Arkansas governor as an "arm of the militia," ringed the school to prevent integration. The attempt was 100 per cent successful. None of the Negroes showed up.

The day marked the opening of hundreds of schools in the South. In some, racial integration of classes was being tried for the first time.

First Time Integration

Three cities in North Carolina Charlotte, Greensboro, and WinstonSalem were putting an integration plan into effect for the first time. In Nashville, Tenn., integrated first grades are scheduled to begin Sept. 9.

The tense Little Rock situation may lead to similar eruptions in Kentucky, where more trouble seemed likely to occur.

In Maryland, Missouri and Oklahoma — which have attempted some integration before—more integrated classes were scheduled to get underway.

Should trouble spring up in Little Rock, perpetrators would face court action similar to that meted out to John Kasper and his helpmates at Clinton, Tenn., last fall. Both areas were put under similar court orders — an injunction preventing interference with integration.

Trouble, should it come, seemed most likely to occur in Kentucky.

Fayette Parents Protest Closing Of Grade School

BROWNSVILLE, Pa. (UP) — Parents protesting the closing of their grade school, brought chairs and benches and set up an outdoor classroom in the nearby mining community of Thompson No. 2 today.

At East Millsboro, another Fayette County mining patch where parents are feuding with the same Luzerne Twp. school board, angry mothers blockaded roads and prevented the arrival of buses which were sent to transport their children to a school at Isabella.

About 75 children sat attentively in the school yard of the locked Thompson No. 2 school as their parents went through the formality of enrolling them on schedule at 9 a.m. One of the parents carried out the required reading of a Bible text and conducted the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Later the children were sent home while the parents prepared for a showdown meeting tonight with the Luzerne school board.

The parents in both communities are riled up at the Luzerne Township board for closing the Thompson and East Millsboro schools in what the board said was an effort to economize while providing better educational facilities.

The Thompson school students were supposed to enroll at Central School, in nearby Tower Hill, and the East Millsboro children at Isabella, five miles away.

Parents have picketed both schools since last week. Sign-carrying delegations from the impoverished mining communities also have picketed the homes and offices of Dr. Ralph Garafola, the board president, and board members Edward Gates and Andrew Skirpan. The pickets marched again today.

Monessen Youths Arrested in Fight

Two Monessen youths were arrested on disorderly conduct charges following a fight near Sixth St. and McMahon Ave. early yesterday morning.

Booked were James Frezzell, 18, of 1538 Schoonmaker Ave., and Chester Artis, 17, of 1032 Morgan Ave.

Frezzell was released after posting a $15 forfeit. Artis failed to pay a $25 forfeit and was placed in jail.

Youths Caught Throwing Stones

Monessen police caught two youths in the act of throwing stones against the Linden elementary school last night about 7 o'clock.

The youths, who were not identified, are to report to the police station with their parents Saturday morning, Chief of Police Michael Kuvinka said.

Kuvinka said vandals broke five windows in the school last week.

'No-hazing' Ban at Charleroi Schools

A strict "no-hazing" ban went into effect today at Charleroi Junior and Senior High School.

School officials indicated that some hazing has been reported in the past, mainly during the first week of school. Anyone caught hazing this year will be suspended from school and will be required to appear with their parents before being readmitted.

New 'Lady Cops' on Duty This Morning

Two "lady cops" began their patrol duties today in North Belle Vernon.

Mrs. Eleanor Mancuso and Mrs. Ida Motchkoski, the first policewomen in the history of the borough, were directing traffic at two busy intersections of relocated Route 31.

The two women were elected to the police force recently by borough council. Each will be on duty four hours per day.

The "lady cops" were hired as a safety precaution for school children. The new four-lane highway divides the borough and many pupils are forced to cross the busy high-speed traffic route.

The policewomen will be stationed at the Baltimore St. and Wilson Ave. intersections of the highway. School children will be advised to cross at those points.

The "lady cops" will be on duty in the morning, at noon and in the Chamber Gives Teachers' Apples

Teachers in Monessen's public and parochial schools found an apple on their desks today as they reported for the opening of the 1957-58 schoolterm.

The apples were placed there by the Monessen Chamber of Commerce along with this note:

"Welcome Back. An apple for the teacher is our way of saying 'hello' to those who teach our children and who are the guardians of their future. For these things and many others. . . our sincere thanks and best wishes for a good year!"

Three Gunmen Break into County Inn

GREENSBURG, Pa. (UP) — Three masked gunmen broke into the Red Top Inn on Route 22, three miles west of New Alexandria, early today and robbed the owners of more than $2,000 in cash.

The robbers entered the inn through a window in the bar, took off their shoes and crept upstairs to apartments on the second floor.

They awakened Charles F. Plocica, 38, his sister, Mildred, 46, and their elderly parents. They did nothing to the mother but tied the others with bed sheets.

The gunmen took a cash box containing $1,500 from under the sister's bed, another cash box containing $500 from the kitchen and $50 from a cash register. They also took Plocica's wrist watch and a loaded .32 Caliber automatic.

After they left, Plocica freed himself and called state police.

West Brownsville Game Is Raided

State police raided a poker game in West Brownsville early Sunday, arresting 13 persons on gaming charges.

Cards and an undisclosed amount of money were confiscated during the raid at the Slovak-American Club, troopers reported.

The 13 persons arrested each posted $15 forfeits.

Washington County detectives and West Brownsville police assisted in the raid.

Arnold Will Soon Be Debt-free

The city of Arnold will soon be debt-free.

The present bonded indebtedness is $35,000. However City Council has about $37,000 in a sinking fund and has ordered the books wiped clean.

Arnold will then be the only city in the state without a debt, it is believed.

Fayette Man Is Held in Lottery

A Fayette County man was arrested on Sunday by state police for allegedly peddling numbers.

He was identified as Nathan Hale, 39, a namesake of the American Revolutionary War Hero.

Police released Hale under $1,000 bond when he waived a hearing on lottery charges.

J. H. Kelly, Retired Banker, Dies at 87

J. Howard Kelly, retired Monessen banker, died Sunday in New York City at the age of 87.

A close friend of the family advised The Daily Independent that death occurred in St. Vincent Hospital where Mr. Kelly had been taken following a fall in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Eleanor Kelly Sellars.

He had suffered a fractured shoulder in the fall, and complications developed. Death was attributed to heart failure.

Mr. Kelly and his son, George, had been visiting Mrs. Sellars, who lives at 134 W. 58th St. in New York. Mr. Kelly and George made their home at 517 Schoonmaker Ave., Monessen.

One of the city's pioneer residents, Mr. Kelly was a civic and business leader here until his retirement in 1931.

Born at Pleasant Unity, near Scottdale, he was a son of Dr. James H. and Nancy (Gamble) Kelly. He attended the public schools and the Greensburg Seminary and was graduated from Washington & Jefferson College.

Mr. Kelly taught in the public schools of Unity Township and in 1894 was chosen as principal of Jeannette High School, serving in that capacity four years.

He began his business career as a bookkeeper with the former Old Meadow Rolling Mill Co. in Jeannette.

In the spring of 1899, Mr. Kelly accepted a position with the former American Tin Plate Co., whose plant in Monessen had just been completed.

He was with the company for 18 months when he was appointed cashier of the First National Bank of Monessen.

In 1902, Mr. Kelly and others organized the Monessen Savings & Trust Co. In 1904 he became its vice president and general manager.

The following year he returned to the First National as its president.

Later Mr. Kelly succeeded in merging the First National and the Monessen Trust, and in the 1920s the Citizens National Bank was taken into the combination.

The First National failed in October, 1931, shortly after the completion of the handsome bank building at the corner of Donner Ave. and Fifth St.

First School Board

Mr. Kelly went into immediate retirement except for a brief period when he was a part owner of the Monessen Realty Co. and was active in its management.

An ardent civic worker, Mr. Kelly took a keen interest in public affairs throughout his lifetime in Monessen. He was appointed to the town's first school board in 1899.

A leader in the former Board of Trade, now the Chamber of Commerce, he served as its president and was a director for many years.

He helped organize the Rotary Club here in 1922 and was elected its president the following year.

Mr. Kelly was a charter member of the First Presbyterian Church of Monessen and held several offices in that congregation. In recent years, however, he has worshipped at the Methodist Church.

Mr. Kelly's wife, the former Gertrude Pearsall, died several years ago as did a brother, Richard S., who also was one of Monessen's earliest residents.

The only immediate survivors are Mrs. Sellars and George, who expect to make their home together in New York City.

At Mr. Kelly's request, the body is being cremated in New York and the ashes will be interred later in the cemetery at Pleasant Unity.

On a date to be announced later, a memorial service will be held in Monessen.

Structure That Housed Atomic Birth Is Razed

CHICAGO (UP) — The structure that housed the birth of the atomic age 15 years ago is being torn down — but first sanitation crews had to be called in to rout radioactivity lingering in its walls.

The crews came from the AEC's Argonne National Laboratory at nearby Lemont. Their goal was the west stand of Stagg Field at the University of Chicago where the late Enrico Fermi and his associates triggered a nuclear reaction in the first atomic pile, Dec. 2, 1942.

Silently they hauled away radioactive concrete and other materials before demolition began Aug. 15, it was disclosed today.

The university had decided to convert the concrete-walled racquet courts that sheltered the 20 foot square pile into tennis court, a spot where a different kind of energy could be expanded.

24 PERSONS HURT IN BUS CRASH — Driver George Gibson, critically injured when his crowded bus collided with a truck-trailer near Calabasas, Calif., is borne on a stretcher by rescue workers through the front windshield of the bus cab. He was pinned in wreckage for 45 minutes after the accident. Twenty-four persons were injured, seven of them seriously.

Many Accidents in Area Over Week End

Four motor accidents involving Monessen district persons occurred on the highways over the Labor Day week end, state police reported today.

Four persons were injured about 3 a.m. Sunday when two cars collided at the Webster Hollow and Route 906 intersection.

According to police, a car driven by Charles Quinn, 21, of 2052 Grand Blvd., Monessen, turned from Route 906 and struck a car operated by Raymond Vagli, 34, of 314 Chestnut St., Monessen, that was stopped for a stop sign.

All of the injured were in Quinn's car. They were: Donald Glass, 20, of Webster; James Dutchko, 21, of Shepler Hill, Monessen; Joseph Schneider, 22, of Pricedale, and Quinn. All were taken to Charleroi-Monessen Hospital.

Glass suffered a mild concussion; Dutchko, ankle cuts; Schneider, head cuts, and Quinn, injuries to the mouth and right arm.

Quinn, police said, will be arrested for reckless driving.

Three persons were slightly injured and $850 damage was done in a three-car pileup on Route 51, about five miles south of Elizabeth at 3 p.m. yesterday.

The drivers were identified as Mobler Daniels, 36, of Pricedale; Fred Thiesen, 54, of Bethel Park, and Joseph Milosevich, 28, of 1034 Highland Ave., Monessen. Police said the cars piled up in chain reaction after the Daniels car struck the rear of the Thiesen machine, pushing it into the Milosevich vehicle.

Milosevich's wife, Mildred, and two-year-old daughter, Debra Marie, were slightly injured but did not require treatment.

Another chain reaction accident occurred at 5 a.m. today on Route 51 about one mile south of Webster Hollow intersection. Four cars were involved.

Police said the drivers were William Hruby, 23, of Belle Vernon; Harry Poling, 33, of St. George, W. Va.; James Gross, 31, of Grindstone, and Edward Stamblesky, 39, of Uniontown.

Police said the accident occurred when the Hruby's machine failed in an attempt to pass Poling's car, forcing Hruby's car back into the line of traffic and into the rear of Poling's machine. Gross' car struck Poling's and Stamblesky's hit the rear of the Gross vehicle.

Damage was estimated at $2,000.

Two persons suffered injuries about 7:45 this morning in a three-vehicle collision on Route 71.

Taken to Charleroi-Monessen Hospital were James Parsons, 22, of West Brownsville, head, arm and chest injuries, and Robert Fulton, 26, of 818 Belle St., Lynnwood, knee and spinal injuries.

State police said a car driven by Parsons struck a truck operated by Charles Toth, 42, of Charleroi. The car bounced off the truck and into the Fulton machine.

About $1,900 damage resulted.

Parsons will be charged with reckless driving.

Ike Signs into Law Bill to Guard FBI Files

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower today signed into law a bill to protect the secrecy of FBI files.

The measure also protects the files of Treasury narcotics and tax squad agents.

The new law, a watered-down version of the administration's original request, spells out new rules for federal trial courts to provide an accused person with statements witnesses gave to government agents which are to be used against him.

The measure was enacted to clarify the Supreme Court's so-called Jencks decision that a defendant has the right to see statements made against him even before trial.

The new law specifies that defendants have a right to examine reports to the government by informants who subsequently testify against them. But the judge would be allowed to exclude any part of the witnesses' statements that did not relate to the trial.

Racial

There also was a chance of disorder in the Nashville situation and in Arkansas, where schools of Little Rock and four other cities were being mixed for the first time.

W. Wright Waller, leader of the Union County (Ky.) White Citizens Council, said he expects between 400 and 500 persons to join him at Sturgis, Ky., where Gov. A. B. Chandler sent state troopers and National Guardsmen to put down school opening violence in September 1956.

Kasper, who has two one - year prison terms hanging ove. him, warned Nashville Negroes that they face "dynamite" if they tried to enter white schools there.

In the Kentucky integration hot spot of Sturgis, a dynamite charge was exploded Sunday night in a Negro section and the effigy of a Negro was hanged. Responsibility for the incidents was denied by the White Citizens Council which was active in attempts to discourage integration in Sturgis.

The September school opening came quietly today to Clinton, Tenn., which exploded into rioting last year when schools were first integrated there.

Clinton Principal W. D. Human said "no extra precautions" were being taken. Two Negro freshmen were enrolled and five Negro upper classmen were eligible to return.

At Least 20 Die in Accidents in State

By UNITED PRESS

The last holiday week end of the summer brought heavy traffic to Pennsylvania highways as fair weather prevailed over most of the state.

State police reported highways still congested early today.

A United Press survey showed at least 20 persons died in highway accidents in the state during the long Labor Day weekend beginning at 6 p.m. Friday night and ending last midnight.

Three Cambria County youths were killed in the worst mishap. Police said their automobile was traveling at an estimated 100 miles an hour speed when it crashed into a bridge abutment.

The fatalities:

Chambersburg: Mrs. Elizabeth B. Hunt, 45, Sunbury, and Donald H. Brandt, Shippensburg RD 2, were killed Monday night in a collision of two automobiles on Route 11 north of here.

Greensburg: Sally Ann Bailey, 18, Irwin RD1, was injured fatally when her automobile collided with another machine at an intersection at Buzzardtown, near Irwin, Monday night.

Washington: Richard Hughes, 15 Washington, Pa., was killed Monday when he lost control of a tractor he was driving on a rural road near here and the machine rolled down a 15-foot embankment.

Feasterville: Eugene Robinson, 53, Baltimore, was killed Monday when his car struck a railroad bridge abutment in Bucks County.

Franklin: Kathleen S. Herron, 18 Jackson Center, was killed Monday when an auto in which she was riding overturned on a curve on Route 8 in Venango County.

Somerset: Wanda Sam, 18, Garrett, was killed Saturday night when the car in which she was riding collided with another machine on Route 653 near Rockwood.

Ebensburg: Three youths were killed Sunday when the automobile in which they were riding hit a bridge abutment at high speed. The victims were Joseph Benkosky, 22, Twin Rocks, the driver; Guy A. Kennedy, 19, Ebensburg, and Gilbert A. Baldwin, 18, Belsano. Baldwin's father helped to remove the mangled bodies from the wreckage but did not learn until two hours later that one of the victims was his son.

Gettysburg: John H. Hartley, 21, and Raymond Weaver Jr., both of Gettysburg, were killed Sunday night when a car in which they were riding slammed into the rear of a truck on Route 30, eight miles west of Cashtown.

Waynesboro: John T. Weikert, 26, Waynesboro, was killed Sunday when a car in which he was a passenger hit a tree along Route 997 north of here.

Tullytown: Lucille Claryton, 40, Trenton, N.J., was injured fatally when an auto in which she was a passenger hit a bridge abutment near here and overturned. Her husband, two children and another passenger were injured.

Somerset: Harry R. Pritts, 64, Somerset, died Sunday of injuries suffered when a car in which he was riding smashed headon into a truck near Jennerstown on Saturday. Killed instantly in the collision was Bruce Mostroller, 36, also of Somerset.

Bradford: Frank Slocum, 34, of Ormsby, was killed Saturday when his panel truck left the highway at a curve and struck a utility pole near Aiken, McKean County.

State College: James K. Artz, 20, Pine Grove Mills, was killed Saturday when his car left a highway near his home.

Pittsburgh: Thomas Fleming, 10 of Library, was killed Saturday, when he was struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. Dorothy Muhaly.

Lancaster: Wayne E. Matrone, 24, Lancaster, was killed Saturday when his auto veered off the Lincoln Highway near Bridgeport and crashed into a service station. Matrone was hurled into flaming gasoline.

175 Die In Crash Of Train

KENDAL, Jamaica (UP)—The worst railroad wreck in peacetime history killed at least 175 persons and injured 500 Sunday night in this British Caribbean colony.

The tragic wreck happened when an excursion train bringing some 1,500 Roman Catholics of all ages home from a weekend outing in Montego Bay came uncoupled on an S-curve about half a mile west of this hill town.

Nine of the train's 12 cars jumped the track, tumbling into a ravine where two cars were smashed to splinters and others were heavily damaged. Scores of persons trying to jump to safety fell on the tracks, to be decapitated or otherwise mutilated by the wheels.

Father Charles Eberley, of Somerville, Mass., organizer of the excursion and only American who took part, escaped injury. Two Jamaican priests were injured.

Going At High Speed

Survivors of the wreck said the train, which had been towed uphill from Montego Bay by two diesel engines, headed into the S-curve at high speed.

A coupling parted with a thunderous crack. The engines plunged ahead while the cars careened back down the hill. One car, its sides torn off, ran a quarter of a mile before it jumped the track.

The rending crashes of the derailed coaches transformed the night into a scene of horror, punctuated by the groans of the injured and the screams of the bereaved.

Some of the less seriously hurt sang hymns in an effort to keep up the spirits of their bleeding fellows in misfortune.

Joseph Mitchell, a linotype operator for the Daily Gleaner who leaped to safety a moment before the car in which he had been riding toppled off the track, said "We saw dozens of persons who were traveling on the platforms between the coaches slip through onto the tracks, where their heads, hands or feet were crushed or cut off."

Herbert Ramsay, a shopkeeper from St. Andrew, said with a shudder that he "saw men, women and children die."

"I saw people cut in two," said Ramsay. "It was a horrible, a terrifying sight."

The only worse such tragedy occurred in Italy in 1944 when 520 rail travelers trapped by an air attack suffocated in a tunnel. The worst previous peacetime wreck happened five years ago in Argentina, where 119 persons were killed.

Drought Taking Its Toll in County

A summer-long drought is now taking its toll on Westmoreland County farmlands.

Dale Jackson, assistant County farm agent, today described county drought conditions as "very bad."

"Unless we get a soaking rain in the near future, we're afraid some of our county farmlands will take a long time coming back," Jackson said.

The drought is also affecting lawns and trees in the district. There have been reports of severe damage to poplar trees.

Jackson said that all tree damage should be reported at once to the county farm office in Greensburg.

"If supplied with a sample of the leaves, we'll have Penn State Extension scientists determine whether the tree damage is caused by insects or disease." Jackson said. "We will also tell the owner if there are any known controls. There is no charge for this service."

Jackson said the leaves on many trees are "browning" and falling off. He said this may be caused by the drought rather than disease.

However he pointed out that the dry spell has encouraged different types of fungus on shrubs and ornamentals.

The situation on county farms is getting worse, Jackson said. Earlier in the summer, agriculture officials reported that this section had been spared serious damage from the dry spell.

But practically no rain has fallen in the county for almost the past two months. As a result, farmers anticipate little or no cutting from the third crop of alfalfa, usually the main supply of baled hay for the winter months.

Sileage corn is being harvested now almost three weeks ahead of schedule. For the most part, the corn yield is only about two-thirds of normal.

Vegetables in the county have also been harvested far ahead of schedule. Many vegetables were affected by the "brown rot" because of the dry weather.

The water supply at county farms is also seriously short at the moment. All cisterns have long since dried up and many wells are running low.

"A great many farmers have been hauling water for their livestock," Jackson said.

Scattered showers were reported in some sections of the county over the weekend, but the rainfall did little to alleviate the drought.

Ike Pessimistic on Disarmament Break

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower today challenged Russia to make the next move toward an East-West disarmament agreement.

The President, speaking at his news conference, took a pessimistic view of any early break in the disarmament deadlock.

He said he does not now see any further constructive step the United States and its allies can make on disarmament at this time.

Something, he said, must happen on the other side — referring to Russia.

Eisenhower added that a Soviet policy change does not seem likely, but there could possibly be some change in the Kremlin's position which is not visible at the moment.

Disarmament negotiator Harold E. Stassen has returned to London from conferences here for a meeting this afternoon of the U. N. disarmament subcommittee.

He may hear Russia's official answer to the West's 11-point, "first step disarmament" proposal. Soviet negotiator Valerian Zorin already has rejected it informally.

The plan calls for air - ground inspection against surprise attacks, suspension of nuclear weapons testing for two years, a ban on production of fissionable material for weapons purposes, and a start on reduction of armed forces and conventional arms.

Officials in Washington are pessimistic about Soviet acceptance of these terms. There is widespread fear that the disarmament talks are headed for failure and adjournment.

The President did not disclose whether he has given Stassen any new instructions. In this connection, the President referred to his statement on Aug. 28 — after the Soviets denounced the West's disarmament plan and claimed development of long range missiles.

The President said at that time that he was deeply disappointed at Russia's "scornful words" and "boastful statements."

—He said he had not materially changed his view that the record of the 85th Congress in its first session just ended was tremendously disappointing.

—He said Congress actually cut his appropriations budget between 900 million and one billion dollars which, he said, is not a sufficient saving to justify a tax reduction in the near future.

—He warned against placing full credence in the Russian announcement that Soviet scientists had developed and fired an intercontinental ballistics missile. He said for a long time a long range missile would not be the best method for the delivery of an explosive charge. He pointed out in this connection that there is a tremendous difference between the test firing of such a missile and actually putting these missiles to tactical use.

—In cataloging congressional failures, he said the most important was the fact that the Mutual Security Assistance program was not adequately supported in appropriations.

—He thought the resounding Democratic victory in the Wisconsin senatorial race last week was due in part to the fact that the people had allowed themselves to be misled by catch words and slogans which incorrectly defined political left and right wings.

'Improved Bus Service' Planned For the Area

Westside Motor Transit Co. today announced "improved bus service" for district commuters as a result of a new schedule now in effect.

A spokesman for the company said that buses will now run hourly from Monessen to Donora and from Charleroi to Donora on week days.

He also said more trips have been added to the Fayette City-Charleroi run.

At the same time, it was announced that bus service between Monessen and Fairhope will be hourly now on Monday and Saturday instead of the previous half-hour schedule on those two days.

For most bus commuters, there will be little change in times, the spokesman said.

"In effect, we've pretty much standardized our service between valley towns," he disclosed.

Westside Motor Transit Co. is a subsidiary of the Noble J. Dick Lines. It serves Monessen, Charleroi, North Belle Vernon, Pricedale, Fairhope, Arnold City, Fayette City and Donora.

$5,000 Can Be Given for Fair

An annual appropriation of as much as $5,000 may be given to the Westmoreland County Fair organization by the county commissioners, according to a court order filed last week in Greensburg by the four judges of county common pleas court.

The court order clarified two conflicting state laws, one limiting the maximum amount of such appropriations to $5,000 and the other at $1,500.

The court ruled in its opinion that the commissioners are to use their discretion in appropriating any sums of money up to the $5,000 maximum.

Two Items Calling For Action Soon

THE MONESSEN City Council has two important items of unfinished business on which we hope some action will be forthcoming soon. They are:

1. A request to the Charleroi Borough Authority that it fluoridate the water which it supplies to Monessen, Charleroi, Donora and other Valley communities.

2. Adoption of housing control ordinance.

Both of these subjects are somewhat controversial, we realize, and Council is justified in approaching them with caution and acting only after careful consideration. But in both cases we believe the delay has been longer than necessary.

* * *

FLUORIDATION is one of the greatest discoveries of this century in the field of public health. At modest expense, it can prevent more than 60 per cent of the decay that occurs in children's teeth.

Hundreds of cities are benefiting from this discovery, Pittsburgh being the most prominent example in this area. And we dislike to see Monessen and the other Valley towns deprived any longer than necessary of something so obviously desirable.

The Charleroi Authority has indicated that it will conform with public sentiment as expressed by the official bodies of the area it serves. And we would like to see Monessen take the lead.

It has been many months since Council first took the question under advisement, largely on the urging of the Junior Woman's Club. We do not see any point in delaying a decision further.

* * *

ADOPTION of a housing code was recommended by the City Planning Commission a year and a half ago as one of the essential features of a broad program to rejuvenate Monessen. It would enable the city government to exercise more supervision over the maintenance of existing buildings and thus enable it to correct and prevent blight.

The city administration has indicated that it is sympathetic to such an ordinance. In fact, the bill has had two readings in council and is in position for final passage, possibly at the next meeting.

We hope it goes through promptly and that council will lose no time in setting up the required enforcement procedures. This is a vital step in Monessen's planning for the future.

We do not want to seem impatient, and we recognize the danger in hasty action without adequate study. But our officials should not fall into the habit — which is easy to do — of doing tomorrow what they realize ought to be done today.

Back to School

THE REOPENING of most public schools today finds the problems of education growing rather than lessening. Enrollments are still increasing rapidly; the nation is farther behind in providing adequate classrooms than it was this time last year; teachers are underpaid and good ones are scarce; it is a rare school district that has not had to increase taxes despite increased state subsidies.

The picture is far from encouraging. And if one looks at it in any detail, he can easily become discouraged, especially if he remembers, as we all should, that universal education is one of the foundation stones of our country. When that stone is in any way displaced, it cannot help but give us deep concern.

It is an inspiring sight, nevertheless, when young America goes back to school. And it would be wrong not to recognize that, by and large, the people who have command of our educational system in most localities are equal to the problems they face.

Teachers and pupils would do well, moreover, to keep in mind that sound education does not really depend very much on buildings and equipment. It depends much, much more on the pupil's will to learn and the teacher's trained gift for imparting knowledge and inspiring good habits of thought.

President Garfield was not exaggerating very much when he made his famous observation about the worth of what he called a "true teacher".

"Give me a log hut," he said, "with only a simple bench, Mark Hopkins on one end and I on the other, and you may have all the buildings, apparatus and libraries without him."

For all the needs of our school system, we provide much better than log huts and simple benches. And American education can achieve its mission if its teachers are "true" and its pupils receptive and diligent.

Merry-Go-Round—

CAB Keeping Air Passenger Rates Low

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Since I am about to leave on one of Ike's so-called "work-and-play" vacations to Greece and the Near East, I would like to settle some scores before I go with people who deserve to have them settled. Here are the scores:

Mr. Pearson

Joseph Minetti — When Minetti was up for appointment to the Civil Aeronautics Board I wrote some critical things about him and raised questions about his qualifications for his job. Since then he has done an excellent job, and the things I said about him have proved unjustified. I want to congratulate him.

The other day he and other members of the CAB — with the exception of ex-Sen. Chan Gurney of South Dakota — took a courageous stand against the big airlines and for the public by refusing a passenger fare increase. Unlike the bandwagon rush of U. S. Steel and others to hike prices, they bucked the stampede toward inflation. Chairman James R. Durfee is another who is doing a good job on the CAB.

The Mellon Family — For a good many years I have been critical of the Mellon family's financial empire and its onetime monopoly in aluminum. But the other day I was in Pittsburgh, where the Mellons have patriotically contributed money and foresight and community spirit in remaking that city in cooperation with a mayor who is just as strongly Democratic as they are Republican.

Mayor Dave Lawrence and the Mellons are a politically diverse team. Nevertheless, the Mellons are now spporting Lawrence for a fourth term. They may disagree with his politics, but they figure he's been a fine mayor. Paul Mellon, son of the old gentleman who was Secretary of the Treasury under Harding, Coolidge, and Hoover, has contributed to a long list of charities which he doesn't advertise and few people know about, while Dick Mellon, nephew of the old man, is the builder-up of Pittsburgh.

Miss Frances Knight, Chief of State Department Passports. — Some time ago, I wrote some mean things about Miss Knight and suggested she was not the person to handle the State Department's passport division. What I said was undeserved. On the contrary, Miss Knight has put amazing new vim into the passport division, has moved it out of rundown quarters, got the cockroaches out of the files, and has increased efficiency to the point that it can turn out 4,000 passports a day.

In ten years, the number of passports issued annually has increased from 200,000 in 1947 to 850,000 this year. To handle this increase, Miss Knight has junked the old gluepots with which clerks slowly and laboriously pasted your picture on the passport. Instead, an up-to-date machine, plus hot irons, does the work.

She is also a great promoter of "people-to-people" friendship and a believer that every American traveler can be an unofficial ambassador of good will — if he wants to. Miss Knight tucks a discreet reminder in every envelope when she mails you your passport, suggesting that you too can be an ambassador.

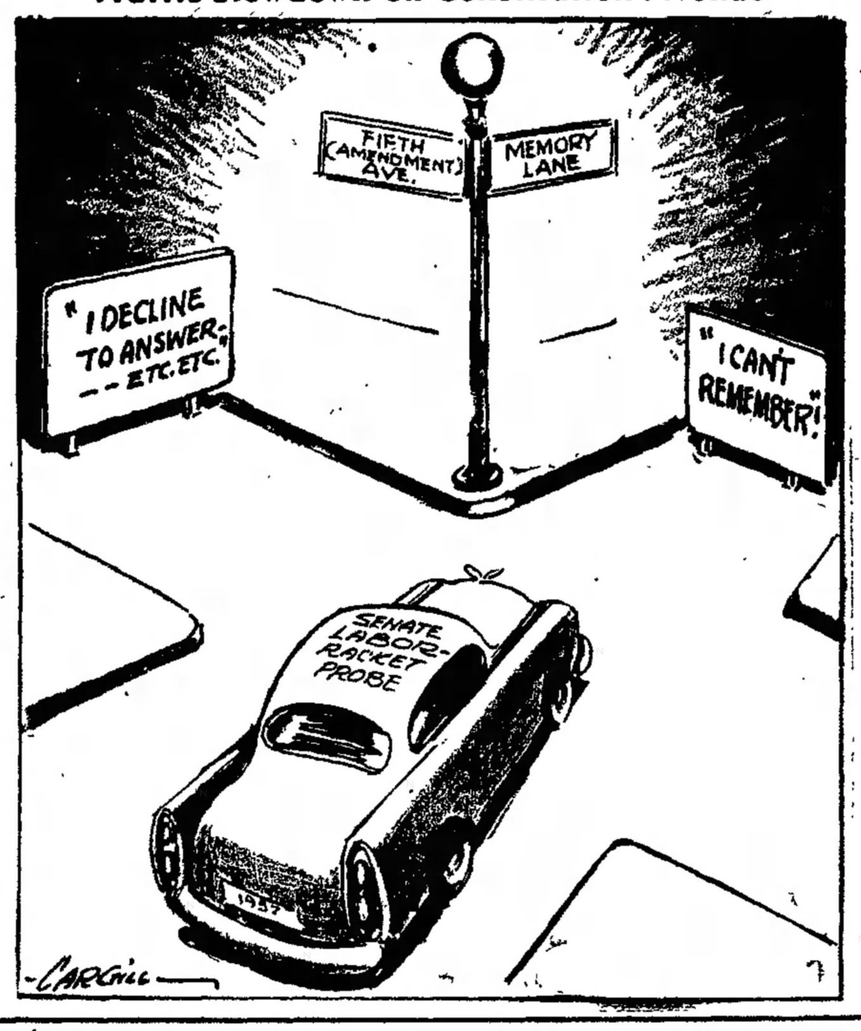
Secretary of Defense Wilson — Along with quite a few other newspapermen, I have sometimes been mean to old Charley Wilson. One of my editors, Dale Stafford of The Greenville, Mich., News, told me a long time ago that I shouldn't be too tough on Charley. He was right.

Charley came to Washington pretty green and stumbled around quite a bit. But he has now learned the ropes in the most intricate department in Washington, and it's too bad that he's leaving just as he's getting good.

One thing you have to remember about Charley is that he's the only Cabinet member, aside from John Foster Dulles, who holds regular press conferences. In fact, he's gone much further than Dulles in speaking out frankly. It's because Charley tries to be frank that he gets his foot in his mouth. It's paradoxical, but a fact, that the press has crucified him for speaking out in the manner they demand that Cabinet members speak out. When Charley Wilson obliges, they murder him.

I strongly suspect that Charley would stay on in Washington if he were not such a dutiful husband. Mrs. Wilson doesn't like it here and wants to go back to Michigan. In Detroit she was the queen of the motor industry. Everyone bowed to her. In Washington she was just another Cabinet wife in a town jampacked with ambassadors, Senators, new Cabinet wives and old Cabinet wives. Truth is, Mrs. Wilson has been lonesome, a bit isolated, and very much wants to go back to Michigan.

Traffic Slowdown on Constitution Avenue



From Washington—

Keep an Eye on Johnson

By ROSCOE DRUMMOND

The most enhanced political figure to emerge from this first session of the 85th Congress is the Democratic majority leader, Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas.

Mr. Drummond

It is no more than stating the facts to say that Senator Johnson:

— Increased greatly his influence in Congress.

— Enhanced his standing in the country.

— Expanded his control of his own party.

— Rescued the two most critical parts of the President's program — the Eisenhower Middle East Doctrine and foreign aid.

— Shaped the right-to-vote law as it finally emerged more than any other leader of the Senate, Democratic or Republican.

— Emerged as an outstanding challenger for the next Democratic presidential nomination.

Decisive Record

That's something. It's more than something and I think I am not over-stating it.

Senator Johnson's political achievements during the past eight months have been varied and decisive and substantial.

He saved the Eisenhower Doctrine from debilitating delay in the Senate. He did it by biding his time and then coming forward with a revision of the Dulles draft which both improved the resolution and made Congress a participant instead of a rubber stamp. Then he marshaled most of his own party behind the result and contributed to the 72 to 19 vote which passed it — after which Mr. Eisenhower was on the telephone to express his appreciation.

That was the first significant action of this session of Congress. It's last significant action found Senator Johnson in the same role. The House of Representatives hacked the President's Mutual Security appropriation to bits. Would the Senate repair the damage? Last week Mr. Eisenhower bid the Texas Senator to the White House for a private conference after which the Senate Appropriations Committee restored $500,000,000 in Mutual Security funds. Whatever is ultimately salvaged will be due in part to Mr. Johnson's influence and resourcefulness.

In the right-to-vote law Senator Johnson played a part which the most earnest civil rights advocates would criticize. They would say — and they are right — that more than anyone else he brought about the dilution of the bill and the ultimate compromise.

But it was also Senator Johnson's generalship which averted a southern filibuster, which kept in the bill the maximum the Senate was prepared to accept and which contributed so much to its final passage.

If you think the Senate did wrong in cutting back the civil rights bill, much of the blame goes to Johnson. If you think the Senate acted responsibly and usefully in passing a compromise bill, much of the credit goes to Johnson.

The full meaning of what Senator Johnson did in behalf of his own party in the right-to-vote fight is widely realized.

He saved the Democratic party from tearing itself apart over this issue.

He shaped a law which drew five southern senators to its support.

He prevented the Republican party from walking off the field with all the honors, held their political gains to the minimum.

He proved himself the ascendant leader of the whole Democratic party in Congress, northern and western liberals as well as southern conservatives.

Party Spokesman

He is no longer just the leader of the Democratic party in Congress. He is a — if not the — principal spokesman of the Democratic party in the country.

Because he voted for and is an architect of the right-to-vote law, he is the first southern Democratic leader since the Civil War to be a serious candidate for presidential nomination, and, if nominated, to have a fair chance of winning.

Senator Johnson may or may not want the nomination, may or may not get it. If he doesn't get it, no one will have more to say about who does get it.

"It's our real name. Pronounced zee-zee. Gets us absolutely last on any listing. We're in all five phone books of the New York City boroughs, also in two on Long Island, and in Newark, Newark Suburban, Jersey City, Westchester...and we're ready to spread out farther. Even the name may grow. May put another 'Z' in front of it. We're the last word in stamps. The last word—get it?"

"Yes, yes. But do you get a lot of crazy calls, like mine? And why don't you answer when you pick up the phone?"

"We not only get a lot of nuisance calls, we get a lot of long distance nuisance calls. This listing has been in the phone books five years, and the telephone company makes more money on it than we do. I've had a lot of calls from people who don't say a word. So I decided not to either."

"You have the same number in all those phone books?"

"Yes, and soon we may take in all big cities around here — Philadelphia, Boston...and eventually I hope to be throughout the country with the same number."

It's Zo Zimple

"Well, what's this stamp business?"

"It's stamp - size photographs that we make from a picture or a drawing of themselves that people send in. We take the head and make stamps from it and usually put a design around it. For instance, we have a heart - shaped design for weddings. Also we get requests for animals and houses and baby pictures on stamps."

"What does a person do with the stamps?"

"Put 'em on your letters, greeting cards, calling cards, get-well cards. They're about the size of an airmail stamp. Your friends and relations would like your picture. A letter is not complete without the final touch, which is the Zzyzzy. Incidentally, the abbreviation of Zzyzzy is ZZ. Why don't you have some made up for yourself?"

"Because my face looks awful," I said.

"Well, we can do something different. We had one guy with the back of his head made instead of the front."

"That's for me. Just what I need," I said.

"Right. Be Zzyzzy-ing you."

"Zo long. And the back of my head to you."

Behind The News—

Independent Reds Are Getting Together

By CHARLES M. McCANN

Eastern Europe's two independent Communist leaders evidently have decided to strengthen their cooperation.

It has been made known that Polish Communist Leader Wladyslaw Gomulka is to visit President Tito of Yugoslavia in mid-September.

Mr. McCann

It will be the first get-together of Polish and Yugoslav leaders since Tito broke away from Russian domination in 1948.

As Gomulka is to be accompanied by Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz, his nominal chief, the visit will attain official rather than purely Communist Party status.

This indicates that some formal Polish-Yugslav agreements are in prospect.

Whatever happens, the meeting is pretty sure to strengthen Gomulka's position, after his own break-away from complete Russian domination last October.

Strengthen Tito's Influence

It also is pretty sure to strengthen Tito's influence in the Communist world.

Hence any news that comes out of the Tito-Gomulka conference is almost certain to be bad news from the Soviet Russian viewpoint.

The Russians have been compelled to reconcile themselves to Gomulka's defiance.

Gomulka has not attained the complete independence from Russian domination that Tito won, to the amazement of the world.

But Poland's policies are no longer directed from the Kremlin and Poland is no longer listed as a Soviet satellite.

Tito is not only completely independent but he is a constant threat to Russia's steadily weakening hold on the remaining Communist satellite countries.

Tito conferred with Russian Communist leader Nikita S. Khrushchev on Aug. 1 and 2.

Removal of Obstacles

This meeting was held at Khrushchev's invitation. Advices from Yugoslavia say that Khrushchev first asked Tito to go to Russia. Tito refused. Khrushchev then asked Tito to invite him to Yugoslavia. Tito again refused. Khrushchev then managed to arrange the conference in Romania.

It was announced afterward that Tito and Khrushchev had agreed to work for the removal of obstacles" that stood in the way of close Russian-Yugoslav relations. They also agreed that "brotherly cooperation" among the Communist countries was desirable.

To get this rather meaningless concession from Tito, the Russians had previously agreed to grant Yugoslavia $250 million in economic aid.

Immediately after his return to Yugoslavia, Tito made it a point to express his conviction that complete equality among Communist countries offered the only basis for their cooperation.

With Poland and Yugoslavia lost, Russia is trying to keep its grip on its remaining satellites. But its grip is likely to loosen progressively.

The Woman's View—

Today's Tots Most Pampered in History

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UP)—Today's tots are the healthiest, the most abundant, and also the most pampered in history.

The parental and grand-parental lullaby seems to be: Nothing but the best for baby. Sculptors design furniture for the nursery. Name designers create their clothes. Furriers wrap them in mink. Even the diaper has taken on a couture look.

Gay Pauley

Statistically, the Institute of Life Insurance reports, babies born today are in the pink of health. Infant mortality is less than 30 per 1,000 births, pretty low when compared with 1900. Then there were 160 deaths in the first year for every 1,000 births.

The birth rate is at an all-time high...in 1956, 4,200,000 babies arrived; in 1940, the number was 2,560,000.

Startling Toy Sales

Supplying this bumper crop with the basics is big business of course. But the people adding the high style touch aren't doing badly either.

Teddy bears at $50 per, help push toy sales for the one to five group to nearly $93 million annually.

Baby Talk magazine located one firm selling mink booties at $15 a pair; a furniture manufacturer featuring a miniature chaise lounge for the nursery; and an importer selling baby carriages, styled like an English coach with windows on either side.

Knoll Furniture features nursery chairs designed by Harry Bertoia and tables by Isamu Noguchi, Noguchi, both sculptorers. A nursery of the future, which will be displayed at the National Home Furnishings Show, New York, Sept. 12-22, will include an aluminum and nylon crib suspended from the ceiling. Designed to sway the baby gently, the crib has fluorescent tubes attached to its underside, for night lighting without glare.

Pastel Diapers

Look what's happened to diapers. First the pastels replaced the whites. Now Kendall Mills, of Walpole, Mass., sells matching diaper and crib sheet sets printed with puppy dogs or rosebuds.

Sacks Fifth Avenue, whose baby shop helped outfit Princess Caroline of Monaco, does a big business in organdy pillow cases for $8.95 a pair, and a luxury comforter at $48.50.

Even fancier trappings are available from Maximilian or Ritter Bros., both furriers. Ritter will make on order carriage covers in broadtail, beaver, squirrel or mink, priced at $150 to $1,000. Maximilian makes the covers in white mink for $2,500, a throw (pun intended), or in white ermine for $2,000.

Baby can have christening caps in beaded and embroidered silk, pink or blue, from John Frederics. Mr. Fred, boss of the firm, often sends them as gifts to his famous customers. Margaret Truman Daniels and Grace Kelly Grimaldi each received one.

"Question and Answer Column"

By James V. Bonafed

Time now for another question and answer column! So many women bring me questions since we started talking things over in our columns. And it's a pleasure to answer! Don't hesitate to stop in and ask your questions. We'd love to get acquainted with you!

-o-

Brushing your hair is part of our beauty ritual. Why do we do it? We brush first, before your shampoo . . . to remove dust and untangle snarls. Brushing stimulates your scalp. It helps the flow of oil by increasing blood circulation. And, you can feel all tension float away.

-o-

We brush again, after we remove your clips when your hair set is dry. This time, we're making certain your hair has a healthy sheen . . . and brushing makes it more manageable. Again, we're increasing circulation, normalizing oil flow. We recommend that you brush your hair at home daily . . . between settings. This keeps it dust-free and helps to promote healthy hair. You can't brush out the curl from your permanents and you help your hair.

-o-

Can you have a successful permanent wave if you use hair colour? Of course, but . . . it must be a professional permanent wave. Tinted hair requires expert care in permanent waving. Improper waving can ruin it. Don't take chances! The new formula compounded by hair research chemists have special ingredients that condition and protect the lovely colours of bleached and tinted hair!

-o-

Your hair may tell others your troubles. No hair is beautiful unless it is healthy. It reflects the state of your health . . . but no hair problem is ever hopeless. Special attention should be given your hair during times of stress, illness and nervous strain. Your personal physician will cure you and, we will help your hair beauty. Research chemists are constantly working to perfect new formulas to help us help your hair. If you are feeling under par, see your doctor . . . and while this prescription solves your health problem . . . we'll be here to solve your beauty problems.

Night HS Games 'Out' in Pittsburgh

A "word to the wise" warning for some of those over-zealous valley fans is the announcement out of Pittsburgh that City schools would play no night games this season, all contests being carded in the afternoon . . . Reason given for the daylight schedule is the attitude of some agitating fans at the night encounters . . . As a City League official put it, "Perhaps a few years of this arrangement will make fans realize they were responsible for the switch." . . . The Pittsburgh teams are permitted to play non-City League night tilts with "outside" foes like the Charleroi-Oliver game and the Peabody-Clairton clash. Charleroi also has a game with Allegheny.

Former Monongahela High School gridder Ed Paulick is one of the holdover vets upon whom Coach Al DeLuca of St Vincent College is depending to improve the Bearcats this season despite a rugged schedule . . . One of Art Rooney's (Pittsburgh Steeler owner) sons, Tim, is a backfield reserve, so far, on the '57 SVC squad . . . On the subject of district small colleges, Coach Johnny Popovich, local product, now tutoring Waynesburg College, is in for a surprise when Don Bartolomucci reports for practice. The former Brownsville halfback went about 145 in high school, no more, but has now skyrocketed to near the 180 mark and is still as speedy as ever. He was one of Warner Fritsch's fastest a few years ago.

Outstanding Bands in Shrin-a-rama

Ten outstanding bands and several marching units will be featured in the gigantic Shrin-a-rama that will precede the second annual Syria Shrine football game on Saturday, September 14 at Forbes Field . . . The two-hour show will start at 6 o'clock in the evening. District bands competing include Charleroi, Wilkinsburg, Shaler and Penn Township. Marching units include the Legion of Honor, Arab Patrol, Drum and Bugle Corps, Chanters, Oriental Band, Highlanders and Clowns . . . Other attractions include the Plaidettes, a drill unit of Scotch lassies from Grove City and the Allegheny County Police Musical Horse Patrol. In addition, 40 Syria clowns will dish out fun and candy to the youngsters.

Brownsville High's newly-elected basketball coach is the sixth floor tutor there since consolidation with South Brownsville in 1934. Preceding Bennett were Carl Aschman, John Lessner, Eddie Addis, Fred Kreuter and Alex Barantovich . . . Of course, Barantovich could have kept the job but wanted to be relieved to devote his full time to football. He made the same sort of a switch when he was assistant football coach at Redstone . . . Willie Thrower, the former New Kensington and Michigan State star footballer, has accepted a position as physical education director at Soho Recreation Settlement House in Pittsburgh. He'll be in charge of organizing and supervising recreation activities for adults and children there.

No Schedule Troubles for Daley Now

During the past three grid seasons, Coach Pete Daley of Centerville had trouble filling a schedule what with Red Worrell and company on hand to run roughshod over all opposition. Now Worrell and nine others of last year's crack team are gone and anyone will play Centerville. With the departure of Worrell, interest has also sagged for the Wildcats as only 20 candidates are reporting for drills each day to Daley and his aide John Wolasky . . . Incidentally, the dry weather is turning grass turfed practice fields into dust bowls as gridders' cleats trample the grass into pulp and stir up the sandy soil. At some fields its impossible to see the players following a scrimmage play, until the dust clears.

Today's Sports Parade—

Dominican Republic's Sportsman's Paradise

By OSCAR FRALEY

CIUDAD TRUJILLO (UP) — No matter what your politics, it can be said without equivocation today that if you are a hunter or a fisherman the Dominican Republic is a sportsman's paradise.

It's a bit tough on the fish and fowl but after a thorough reconnaissance of the fin and feather situation in these peaceful parts I can make three incontrovertible observations, to wit:

—The guy who discovered Dramamine deserves a diamond-studded medal;

—There are fish in the Caribbean so big that I hope I never catch one;

—If you can't get more birds than you can carry you're shooting blanks.

He "Bob-ed" Along

These facts were driven home when Bob Demme and Bob Shields, two Pan-American Airways pals lolling in the lap of air-conditioned luxury with me at the El Embajador Hotel, talked Old Fearless into going deep-sea fishing. Being the type who gets seasick when there's too much water in the bathtub, I went willingly because there was a Bob dragging on each arm.

"The last time out," said the skipper as the launch left the sheltered waters of the Ozama River and plunged into the rolling swells of the Caribbean, "we got a 600-pound sailfish. Another fellow took a 258-pound tuna."

Personally, I thought this might make even such a nice boat a little crowded, being the type who prefers his tuna in cans. But the skipper cast (fishing lingo. Get it?) at me what is referred to by the literary fellers as a jaundiced eye and added:

"We've got everything here a fisherman can want. You can take swordfish, barracuda, marlin, kingfish and, honest, we've even taken a couple of varieties of fish which hadn't even been named."

They Lowered Limit

Shields, one of those types who is equally at home with what the outdoor writers call rod or gun, was unlimbering his gear and wishing he was twins so he could be two places at once.

"Sometimes I can't decide whether to go fishing or hunting," he explained. "Over there in the Cordillera Mountains, the pheasants and doves are so thick you can almost knock 'em down with rocks."

There's just one trouble, he added. They've put a limit on the number of doves you can shoot on one outing.

"Some guy shot 300 one afternoon," Shields said. "He made the mistake of sending about half of them to the President as a sort of friendly gift. The President thought this was too many. So now there's a limit.

"Now," he added bitterly, "you can only shoot 200."

Giant, Dodger Crowds 'Sparse'; NL Mark Down

By UNITED PRESS

One glance at the National League attendance figures for the Labor Day doubleheaders and it should be obvious why the New York Giants are San Francisco-bound and the Brooklyn Dodgers are considering a transfer to Los Angeles.

The Giants attracted only 10,310 fans for their twin bill with the Pittsburgh Pirates at the Polo Grounds while 18,895 showed up at Brooklyn to watch the Dodgers play the Philadelphia Phillies.

These two twinbills helped lower the National League attendance to 78,759 compared to the 110,736 persons who watched last year's holiday games The four American League games attracted 94,773, a slight increase over last year when the total was 92,833.

The day's largest crowd of 34,239 watched the Cubs entertain the Milwaukee Braves at Chicago. The Cleveland Indians, reportedly looking for new quarters, too, drew only 7,665 for their holiday doubleheader with Kansas City.

Sugar Ray Takes Day Off Drills

GREENWOOD LAKE, N.Y. (UP) — Sugar Ray Robinson, anxious to keep his weight up, took a day off today from his training for his Sept. 23 middleweight title defense against Carmen Basilio.

Robinson scaled 162 pounds after a four-round drill Monday, only two over the middleweight limit and three over what he hopes to weigh for the fight. Robinson's willingness to take a day off was interpreted by some as meaning that Sugar isn't as worried about "getting sharp" as he said last week he was.

Bonus Baby Signed

BOSTON (UP) — The Washington Senators announced Monday they have signed Ralph Lumenti, a Milford, Mass., left hander who attends the University of Massachusetts, to a bonus contract estimated at $35,000. "I'll use Lumenti as soon as possible," said manager Cookie Lavagetto "What have I got to lose?"

Currie Depending on Newcomers This Year

(This is another in a series of round-up articles on Valley grid teams. More will follow prior to the opening games on September 13 and 14. Monesen wil be covered in daily stories here.)

"We're depending on our young players this season and they'll really have to come through for us to even come close to our '56 mark, stated Charleroi High grid mentor James "Rab" Currie in discussing the Cougar football hopes for 1957.

The former Monessen High and Waynesburg College grid star looks back with fond memories of the likes of Billy Pentz and Myron Pottios, '56 co-captains and All-Big Six choices who have graduated, Carl Witmyer, standout center and Joel Walenta, top-notch guard, also an All-Big Six choice selection last season. In the backfield John Lenhart, standout halfback, will be missing in addition to Pottios.

Add to these graduation woes the broken collar bone suffered by Fred Yuss, All-Big Six guard as a junior last season plus Jimmy Chacko, sparkling end in '56 not reporting for drills this season and you have quite a problem confronting the Cougar mentor.

His task is lightened somewhat, however, by the promising crop of newcomers who have reported this season.

Numbered among the sophomores reporting are such promising players as Bob Sink, 6-1, 175—pound end-center candidate from Fallowfield Township who could possibly win a starting berth in his first varsity try and Mickey Bitsko, brother of last year's super star Myron Pottios. (Bitsko has taken the name of his foster parents, who adopted him when he was a baby).

Doing a quick rundown on his 1957 squad Currie lines up the most promising candidates as follows:

ENDS — Ollie Payne, All-Big Six honohable mention last season, who now stands 6-4 and weighs 190 has one end post sewed up. The other terminal post will go to either Tim Lee, 5-10, 160, or Jim Colditz, 5-10, 155 both seniors and Sink, unless the sophomore hopeful is shifted to center.

TACKLES — Keith Melenyzer, 5-11, 190, and Mike Kondratic, 5-11, 200, both juniors, are the front-running candidates for the tackle posts but Pete Goimaric, 185-6-0 sophomore are giving both of them a "hard time."-Mike Carroll and Bob Reisbeck are also in the tackle race.

GUARDS — Billy Hoganna 175-pound, 5-10 junior and Barry Nucci, 5-9, 155, are lining up as first string guards but close behind is Joey Arrigo, a converted senior end, who goes 165. Other hopefuls are Don Harger, 185, 5-11, a sophomore and Wayne Shipley, 5-8, 170-pounder. Yuss, already elected co-captain was a sure starter here until injured.

CENTER — The pivot post has been held down by Art Mouyard in early drills but Currie feels that at 5-8, 170, the senior center may be too light to stand the gaff of the punishment in the center of the line and is tinkering with idea of moving Sink to this post or else 200-poud, 6-0, Don Hega, a junior. Clark Dragan, 5-8, 150-pounder is also in the battle for the snapper-back slot.

QUARTERBACK — The all important quarterback slot is in the capable hands of hold over regular Ron Cosner, one of three vets back from the unbeaten 1956 eleven which posted a 10-0-0 mark before bowing 16-13, in the WPIAL championship game against Jeannette. Cosner goes 160 and is 5-8.

Rab Currie

He rates high as a ball-handler and passer. Other candidates are Gary Hogan, 180, 5-11 sophomore and Charles Colditz a 6-3, 155-pound "sammy Baugh-built" hopeful.

HALFBACKS — Joe Uhlman, 5-11, 170 and Bob Daugherty, 5-9, 175, are the leading halfback bidders Uhlman is a holdover, Daugherty filling in for departed Lenhart. Also vying for the halfback posts are Paul Strelick, 145 pound, 5-9 sophomore, Fred Zaph 150 pound sophhomore; Jimmy Arrigo, 5-8, 150-pound junior brother of Joey; Tony Russo, 160-pound, 5-7 senior; and Bob Hodgson, 5-8, 150-pound sophomore.

FULLBACK — Powerful 200-pounder Don Reeves, who goes 5-11, is filling in capably for departed Myron Pottios, now Notre Dame bound, but is getting opposition from Myron's brother Mickey, who goes 6-0 and weighs 190.

Currie lost a valued assistant coach in Mike Booth He is receiving capable assistance in his coaching chores from Joe Barcelona, George Chacko, Frank Lee and Jimmy Protin. Barcelona handles the line, Lee the backfield, Chacko works with the ends, Protin is the custodian. Booth is doing a tour with Uncle Sam's Navy after which he will take a coaching post in Ohio.

Mountaineers Loom as Best in Lewis' Tenure

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UP)—It looks like the West Virginia Mountaineers may have their best team Coach Art Lewis has had during his seven years here, but "Pappy" is shying away from an overly-optimistic viewpoint.

The railbirds at the Mountaineers fall training camp say that although West Virginia does not have the number of individual stars which have earmarked most Lewis-coached teams, the balance is there for an almost certain, unprecedented fifth straight Southern Conference title. . .and possibly bigger things.

But "Pappy" Lewis says he wants to wait and see.

"Each of our first four opponents is new," he noted. "It's always tougher to get ready for a new opponent than it is to play one whose style is at least a little familiar to you."

Those four newcomers are Virginia, Virginia Tech, Wisconsin and Boston University. The Mountaineers have played them all before, but none in the past several years.

Lewis has placed question marks beside the names of about a dozen players counted on for considerable action. All suffered some type of injury during or after practice.

Racial Issue in Army-Tulane Tilt

NEW ORLEANS (UP) — Tulane University football coach Andy Pilney seemed satisfied "with Army's word" today despite a congressman's threat to cancel the Army-Tulane game because of a ban on racially - mixed sports in Louisiana.

Pilney refused to talk about the politics of the ban. He said he was satisfied with Army's word that the game would be played.

Rep. James Fulton (R-Pa.) said he would protest to the White House and "strongly urge cancellation."

"What's the use of a civil rights law by Congress if Army disregards civil rights and cooperates in their repression," Fulton said. superintendent of West Point, said superinendent of West Point, said "we made our contract four years ago and we're going to honor it."

Willey Named as MVP in AA Loop

DENVER (UP)—Carlton Willey, 26-year-old right hander who pitches for the Milwaukee farm team at Wichita, was named the "most valuable" player in the American Assn. today, having already become the league's first 20-game winner since Herb Score turned the trick in 1954.

Willey received the first - place ballots of baseball writers in five of the association's eight cities. Single first - place votes went to outfielders Don Demeter of St. Paul, and Ray Shearer of Wichita, and Curt Roberts, Denver second baseman.

It was quite a comeback for Willey, who last year showed only a 5-10 record. He has won 20 and lost 6 this season.

'Need Much More Work'—Niccolai; One-a-day Drills

Looked fairly good offensively but need work on defense. That's a thumbnail description of how the Monessen High Greyhounds fared in their scrimmage session with Greensburg here Saturday afternoon in the coaching staffs opinion.

Some of the backs reeled off some nice runs and Quarterback Don Barton was hitting the ends with his passes, several of them good for long gains. Carl Payne also showed well in his ball handling at the quarterback post.

Dennis O'Toole played well at his end post, gathering in aerials.

On the line the locals had a little difficulty with some of the "wide" plays used by Greensburg, according to Greyhound coach Armand Niccolai but were able to contain the Lions fairly well in plays "up the middle."

A large crowd gathered at the stadium for the Saturday morning session which saw the players going at it with mid-season enthusiasm if not with mid-season ability.

"We've got a lot of work ahead of us," stated "Nick" this morning, "and wit honly one-a-day drills (school opened today) from here on in it's going to be rough."

Andrew Carollo worked well at the fullback slot in Saturday's workout, filling in for injured Carl Rattay. Carrollo is only a sophomore and stands only 5-9 but has 170 pounds packed nicely on his frame. Rattay who saw considerable action as a sophomore last season, is also only 5-9 but has 180 pounds going for him.

With players like 185-pound George Guibourdanche and 160-pound Joe Karbowsky now out for drills following various ailments such as injuries and illness, have brightened Niccolai's burden somewhat the past few days.

The opener with Windber is set for Saturday night, September 14, less than two weeks from today.

Carnegie Tech in Initial Grid Drills

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Coach Eddie Baker of the Carnegie Tech football team met for opening drills today with a squad short in numbers but long on experience.,

Of the 35 men reporting for practice, 18 were lettermen and eight were starters from last season's team. Tech will open its schedule against Buffalo University at Forbes Feld, Sept. 28.

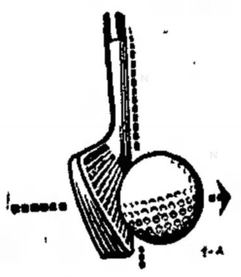
DOCTORING YOUR GOLF

By CARY MIDDLECOFF



Weak Irons

An easy but bad habit for the golfer to fall into is having the clubface of his iron open, instead of square, when he contacts the ball. If the face of the club is open when it comes into the ball, you add loft to the club and give the ball a left-to-right spin. Thus you lose distance, and the ball will be sent to the right of the target area.

The trouble can generally be traced back to the position at address. Frequently the golfer thinks he has the clubface squared when he hasn't. What you must do is check carefully.

Note the grooves on the face of the iron — particularly the bottom one. Is it at right angles with the intended line of flight? If not, it should be.

It is also possible to make the error of closing the clubface too much at address. But this is less frequent than the fault of opening it too much.

In any event, check and be sure your clubface is square with the line of flight before you start your backswing.

General Inaccuracy

For accuracy on all your shots, your arms must work together as a unit. And the best way to insure this is to bring them close to gether as you start your swing.

The best way I know to express the thought is to say that the elbows should be brought as close together at address as is comfortably possible. This is not to say that you should bring them close together in an unnatural and cramped position.

Don't keep your elbows too far apart at the beginning of the swing. Some forcing is necessary to bring them as close together as they should be.

How close is that? Well, each elbow should be pointing inside the hip. The right elbow should point about toward your watch pocket. The left elbow should be in the same relative position.

Parker 'Trademark' Wins for Steelers

By UNITED PRESS

Buddy Parker, who took over the Steelers Aug. 27 after they suffered exhibition losses to the Chicago Bears and Cleveland Browns, guided them to a 17-12 victory over the Eagles Monday at Philadelphia.

Parker hasn't been with the Steelers long enough to install his own methods, but Monday's victory showed one of his "trademarks." He is known as one of the league's best "second half" coaches, a man who knows how to switch tactics during the dressing room intermission and stop an opponent in the last 30 minutes. Philadelphia got two points in the second half and suffered its fourth exhibition loss in as many games.

Ted Marchibroda, Pittsburgh's quarterback, set up a two - yard scoring lunge by Henry Ford and completed a 34-yard pass to end Terry Richards for the other Steeler touchdown. Billy Ray Barnes, a rookie from Wake Forest, scored Philadelphia's only touchdown on a 36-yard run.

In Sunday's exhibition, Hugh McElhenny slashed 54 yards with a minute and 10 seconds to go and gave the Forty - Niners a 21-17 victory over the Browns at San Francisco.

The Los Angeles Rams crushed the Chicago Cardinals, 63-21, at Portland, Ore., and the Lions defeated the Washington Redskins, 31-14, at Birmingham, Ala., in Saturday night exhibitions.

Williams Overtakes Mantle While Idle

BALTIMORE (UP) — Mickey Mantle needs a good day at bat against the Baltimore Orioles today to recapture the American League batting lead from Ted Williams.

Williams, unable to play for the Red Sox in Monday's double-header because of a chest cold, took over the lead while idle. He stayed at .3756 while Mantle bagged only one hit in seven at - bats for the Yankees in their twin bill against the Orioles.

Mantle had "1 for 6" in the opening game and struck out as a pinch-hitter in the second to drop from .377 to .373.

Here's how the two stars stand:

Driver Dies in Stock Car Race

DARLINGTON, S.C. (UP) — Speedy Thompson of Monroe, N.C., won the grueling Southern 500-mile stock car race Monday averaging 100.094 miles per hour. But the 8-year-old classic was marred by the death of a driver.

Bobby Myers of Winston-Salem, N.C., died in a hospital operating room after a spectacular three-car crash on the 28th lap when he slammed into Fonty Flock of Atlanta, who spun on the tricky third turn. Myers flipped and landed nose first. Paul Goldsmith of St. Clair Shores, Mich., crashed into Myers.

Flock was reported in serious condition. Goldsmith was less seriously injured. The race was halted for an hour after the wreck.

Cotton Owens of Spartanburg, S.C., driving a Pontiac, finished second and Marvin Panch of Gardena, Calif., in a Ford, took third place.

Packers Trade End

STEVENS POINT, Wis. (UP)— The Green Bay Packers traded end Ken Vakey to the Pittsburgh Steelers Monday for a 1958 choice in the National Football League draft of college players. Vakey is a 6-4 rookie from Texas Tech.

More Than Miracle Needed Now To Catch Milwaukee in NL Race

By TIM MORIARTY

It will take more than a "miracle finish" like the New York Giants produced in 1951 to catch the Milwaukee Braves now in the National League pennant race.

Six years ago, the Giants electrified the baseball world when, after trailing the Brooklyn Dodgers by six games at the Labor Day milestone, they won 17 of their last 21 games to finish in a first place tie with the Dodgers and then walked off with the flag on Bobby Thomson's dramatic ninth inning home run in the third game of the playoffs.

Now consider the almost hopeless task confronting Milwaukee's nearest rivals at this same stage of the campaign this season:

Cards Nine Out

While the Braves were sweeping their holiday doubleheader against the Chicago Cubs Monday, the second-place St. Louis Cardinals dropped two games to the Cincinnati Redlegs and the third-place Dodgers lost twice to Philadelphia. That left the Cardinals 8½ games behind and the Dodgers nine games out.

Even if the Braves win only 12 of their remaining 24 games, the Cardinals must win 21 of 23 to rob them of the championship while the Dodgers must win 21 of 22 to retain the flag.

The Braves got in some good batting practice for the World Series against the Cubs Monday, collecting 26 hits in running off with the opener, 23-10. Bob Trowbridge blanked the Cubs with three hits in winning the nightcap, 4-0.

The Redlegs nipped the Cardinals, 3-1, on Frank Robinson's two-run homer in the 10th inning of the nightcap after home runs by Bob Thurman, George Crowe and Ed Bailey carried Cincinnati to a 10-5 opening game victory.

The Philadelphia Phillies used two castoff pitchers in sweeping the Dodgers, 10-4, and 7-4. Warren Hacker pitched his first complete game of the season in the opener while Jim Hearn won the nightcap in relief of Jack Meyer.

Hank Sauer hit two homers and drove in six runs as the New York Giants walloped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 11-5. The Giants also won the nightcap, 4-3, on southpaw Johnny Antonelli's two run homer in the sixth inning.

The Baltimore Orioles dealt the New York Yankees their first double-header defeat of the season, but the Chicago White Sox had to settle for a split against the Detroit Tigers.

Sox Trail Yanks By 4½

Connie Johnson pitched the Orioles to a 6-1 victory after Billy Gardner's 11th inning single earned them a comeback 8-7 triumph in the opener.

The White Sox, who now trail the Yankees by 4½ games, whipped the Tigers, 8-2, as Billy Pierce became the major's leading winner by posting his 18th victory in the opener. However, Detroit won the nightcap, 5-4.

With Williams sidelined by a heavy chest cold, Sammy White and Jim Piersall shared the heros' role with eighth inning homers that carried the Red Sox to an 8-7 second game victory over the Washington Senators. The Sox also won the opener, 7-1, behind big Frank Sullivan.

The Cleveland Indians bounced the Kansas City Athletics twice, 8-0 and 6-3. Mike Garcia allowed only five hits in pitching his first shutout of the season in the opener. Relief pitcher Cal McLish won the second game with a three-run homer.

MILWAUKEE (UP)—Given one more turn at bat, the Milwaukee Braves might have established two major league records Monday in their 26-hit, 23-10 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

The New York Giants established the record of most hits by one club in a nine-inning game by collecting 31 in 1901. The 1950 Boston Red Sox and the 1955 Chicago White Sox share the major league mark of 29 for most runs by one club in a single nine-inning contest.

Aaron, Snider HR Battle Looms in NL

By UNITED PRESS

A battle between Hank Aaron and Duke Snider for the home run championship is shaping up in the National League to rival the American League batting title fight between Ted Williams and Mickey Mantle.

Snider, the Dodgers' defending homer champion, slammed his 35th and 36th circuit clouts in Monday's double-header in Brooklyn and now trails Aaron by only two. Aaron has 24 games left to play and Snider 22.

In the second game, Willie Mays banged a home run with Don Mueller on base and pitcher Johnny Antonelli came through with his third home run of the season, also with a man on base, to give the Giants their second victory of the day.

Harp Manufacturing Is Painstaking Craft

By ALFRED LEECH

CHICAGO (UP) — In an era of mass production, the world's only harp factory stands as a reminder of the painstaking craftsmanship of a less hectic age.

"You just can't mass produce harps," said burly Frank Hanzlik, superintendent of the Lyon & Healy Harp Plant. "It takes skilled craftsmanship."

So in its 68 years of operation, the factory has turned out only about 5,300 harps. This year the firm expects to produce 85, an all-time high.

"A few years ago we were making about 60 a year," Hanzlik said.

"But there's been a boom in all musical instruments and harps are no exception. Our output is up about 40 per cent."

Which translates into an increase of 15 per year, a goodly number considering it takes three to four months to build a harp

Tedious Work

It's tedious work, Hanzlik said, because both the wooden and metal parts, more than 2,000 of them, must be built to microtolerances. The spruce sounding board, for example, must taper from a thickness of 72-thousandths of an inch to an incredible 360-thousandths.

"Not exactly a job for the do-it yourself fan," Hanzlik opined.

It takes three weeks just to put the gold leaf on the hand-carved harp column. The artisan who performs this task rubs a beaver brush across his cheek to induce static electricity, then picks up the delicate 24-karat golf leaf on the brush tip by magnetism.

The raw materials for building a harp come from three continents and include eight different woods, some of which must be seasoned a year under strict temperature and humidity control.

The curved neck of the instrument is built of seven layers of specially seasoned maple, laminated to withstand 2,000 pounds of pull from the strings.

Built to Last

And a harp must be built to last. The first one ever turned out by the factory back in 1889 still is in daily service at Morgan Park High School here.

The harp factory, covering an entire floor of a rambling warehouse building, employs 25 men. Despite the affinity of Irishmen and harps, there's not a single son of Erin among this work force.

Mostly the men come from Central Europe — from Germany, Poland, Italy. Except for four young DP's, most of them are in their 60's.

Joe Biaha has been harp tuner at the plant since 1910. Machinist Frank Puls has been plying his specialized trade since 1919.

But if they are old in years and service, they must be young in heart.

Pin - up pictures of Marilyn Monroe and Jayne Mansfield adorn the factory walls.

Disarmament Showdown Nears

LONDON (UP) — Harold E. Stassen returned today from consultations in Washington for what may be the showdown session in the London disarmament talks.

Observers said the next move is up to Russia when the five-power United Nations disarmament subcommittee resumed negotiations this afternoon.

Stassen planned to meet earlier with the delegates of Great Britain, Canada and France to report on his week end talks in Washington with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

The subcommittee meeting is the first since Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin denounced in what President Eisenhower deplored as "shocking" words the Western arms reduction package plan last Thursday.

Prime Minister Harold MacMillan also protested the Soviet brusque rejection of Western disarmament proposals in a personal letter to Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin.

The British prime minister called for "favorable consideration" of the Western package plan which he said were "practical and imaginative." He told Bulganin "you have but to say the word" and progress can be made toward arms reduction.

Macmillan's letter was the latest in a series of exchanges with the Soviet prime minister. It was dispatched to Moscow last Friday and released for publication Monday.

Official sources in both London and Washington appeared to be steeling themselves for a verbal duel with Moscow on which side is to blame for the disarmament deadlock.

Woman Suffers Heart Attack In Auto Crash

ELIZABETH, N.J. (UP) — A Pittsburgh, Pa., woman died Sunday of a heart attack suffered when she was involved in a multiple vehicle crash on the New Jersey Turnpike near here, an autopsy report showed today.

Mrs. Celia Lowendowski, 63, the victim, suffered a coronary occlusion, acting Union County coroner Dr. Bernard Ehrenberg said. State police reported she had incurred no apparent injuries in the crash.

Mrs. Lowendowski was a passenger in a car driven by Frank Sebrowski, 19, also of Pittsburgh, police said.

Their automobile was struck from the rear by another southbound car, driven by Anthony Paulino, 31, of RD 16 New Brunswick, police said. A tractor-trailer operated by Arthur L. Childress, 37, of Waynestown, S.C., then nicked Paulino's car

Paulino, Sebrowski and Childress escaped injury.

McDonald Says U. S. Is Failing On Civil Rights

PITTSBURGH (UP) — David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers, says the United States has failed to meet the challenge of civil rights.

McDonald, in his annual Labor Day message to his union, said that despite the Supreme Court ban on segregation "opponents of democratic procedure are openly defying the order of the highest legal authority in our land, while others are resorting to legislative attempts . . . to postpone compliance as long as it is possible . . ."

McDonald, saying he chose to speak this year of "social rather than economic wages" called on leaders of industry to join in promoting civil rights.

He said it is their obligation to "institute a system of education for plant managers and other supervisory personnel . . . so that they can join with us in helping to establish real American democracy."

"In brief," he said, "our workshops should be made the schools for democracy."

Says Missile Defense Is Possible

WASHINGTON (UP) — Germany's World War II missile chief says a defense against the intercontinental ballistic missile is possible.

Former German missile chief Walter Dornberger, now a missile design consultant for Bell Aircraft, was the second missile expert in two days to say that the so-called ultimate weapon may not be ultimate after all.

Gen. Earle E. Partridge, head of the North American Air Defense Command, said the ICBM can be stopped with an "anti-missile missile."

Partridge said in an interview with the weekly news magazine U.S. News & World Report an ICBM defense would call for long-range radar to detect the enemy ICBM and a system of radar to dispatch the anti-missile missile.

"This stretches my imagination" he said, "but that's what they (scientists) say can be done, and we have t get along with building such a system and do it as quickly as possible."

Dornberger said in the Army-Navy Air Force Register, unofficial service publication, "a defens: should not be too difficult".

Both Partridge and Dornberger made the statements before Russia announced last week that it had developed and successfully tested an ICBM.

Dornberger said speed alone would not guarantee that an ICBM would reach its target. He then went on to outline a defense against ballistic rockets after noting that they have a "Very short burning time" during which they are guided.

"When you know where htey come from, on what flight path, where they will hit, you just send something against it to collide with it on its way down. You let the ICBM run into it."

Mrs. John Staranko of Speer St. is recovering at home after undergoing surgery in a Pittsburgh hospital.

Cooler Weather For the Area Is Predicted

By UNITED PRESS

Fair and moderate weather will prevail for most of Pennsylvania for the next three days with occasional scattered showers in some portions.

An area of low pressure moved north across Northeastern Pennsylvania and a secondary area of low pressure is moving into the western portion of the state, bringing cloudiness and scattered showers or thundershowers.

Warm temperatures will prevail over most of the state today but cooler air is expected in the wake of the second low pressure area in western portions.

High temperatures today will range from 80 in the north to 90 in the south. The low tonight will be 60 in the mountains and 65 to 70 in the remainder of the state. High Wednesday will be in the middle 70's in the north and the mid 80's in the south.

DON'T MISS THE... green dot special

Beauty Pageant Opens

By RUSS GREEN

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UP)—The nation's foremost beauty contest, the Miss America pageant, begins today with 51 talented beauties vying for the title of "Miss America 1958" and the multitude of glories that go with it.

Preliminary peeks at the home folks choices from 45 states, three major cities, two territories and Canada indicated it would take the mirror of Snow White's stepmother to determine who is the fairest of them all.

From this point on, every minute of every waking hour will be plotted for the young misses. The hectic pace began this morning with the bathing suit picture, posed along the colonnades outside Convention Hall, the traditional grouping of the girls which has graced as many saloon windows as Custer's last stand.

The first of the dazzling performances — with no slight meant to the bathing suit appearance—takes place tonight when the girls participate in the American beauty illuminated parade.

In all, 29 floats and 25 bands will be in the line of march with the tootlers including the Charleston, W.Va., high school band and the band of gold from Inman, S.C., a subtle reminder that last year's Miss America was a South Carolina girl.

Busy Wasps

HALIFAX, England (UP)—The smell of ice cream and refreshments brought some unwanted guests to an agricultural show in this Yorkshire town. More than 150 persons were stung in one day by wasps attracted by the sweets.

Runaway Boy Is Given Lodging More Than Week

PHILADELPHIA (UP) —A 14-year-old runaway boy from Bryn Mawr, Pa., was given food and lodging by a kind-hearted woman here for more than a week after telling her his parents had been killed in a recent plane crash.

William F. Costello, 3rd, a ninth grade junior high school student, was turned over to Lower Merion police Monday after his benefactor, Mrs. Clara Vose, read of a 13-state search for him in a Philadelphia newspaper.

The boy told Mrs. Vose's son, Roy, whom he met more than a week ago in a nearby recreation center, that his mother and father had been killed in a plane crash while en route from Florida to Philadelphia.

The boy said he had been staying with his grandmother about five blocks away from the Vose home but that she had departed for Pittsburgh and left him all alone with a refrigerator filled with food.

When the boy was questioned by police, he admitted having left home because of a misunderstanding with his parents.

Boy Wins First Prize as Baker

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Scott Wagner, 17, Pleasant Hills, Allegheny County, held a $400 college scholarship today because he excelled in a field usually regarded as a property of the girls.

He won first prize at the Allegheny County Fair in the teenager baking contest Monday with his "Black Jack Devil's Food Cake."

One of Last Civil War Veterans Dies

CRESTVIEW, Fla. (UP) — William Allen Lundy, one of the South's last three veterans of the Civil War, will go to his grave under the Confederate flag Wednesday, but a U.S. Army guard of honor will fire the final salute to the old soldier.

The Army will accord a full military funeral to Lundy, whose only service was with the Alabama home guard in 1964 when he was 16 years old. He was 109 when he died Sunday night in a hospital in Crestview.

Physicians still have not announced the exact cause of his death.

The Grover Whitehurst Funeral Home announced that Lundy's funeral will be at the First Baptist Church Wednesday. The Rev. Hal Hunter and a military chaplain will officiate.

The honor guard will blow taps and fire three volleys of rifle shots into the air in final tribute to Lundy, who leaves behind only two living veterans of the host of men in gray. They are John Salling, 111, of Slant, Va., and Walter Williams, 115, of Franklin, Tex.

Albert Woolson 108, of Duluth, Minn., the last survivor of the Union army, died last year.

Told of Lundy's death Monday, Williams said, 'well, that's too bad. I sure hate to hear it."

Predicts Atomic Loco

BUENOS AIRES (UP)—Edward J. Kehoe, a former member of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, predicted the atomic locomotive will be a reality by 1960. Kehoe made the prediction in a paper submitted to the 9th Pan-American Railway Congress.

Pigeons Can Be Dangerous

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UP)—People who dislike city pigeons—and people who love them—may be stirred by new scientific proof that city pigeons deal freely and intimately with a kind of fungus which sickens and usually kills people it invades.

The new proof applies to the pigeons who nest on and deface public buildings in Cincinnati and its environs. Previously fungus intimacy had been proven on the pigeons of Washington, D. C. Presumably it can be applied to all city pigeons. Like pigeons and people, the fungus is "widespread in nature."

Its name is cryptococcus neofarmans which wouldn't be worth the effort of remembering were it not for its striking ability to multiply at the temperaure which prevails inside all people. Favored places are brain and central nervous system tissues.

Not Regarded Lightly

The resulting disease is called cryptococcosis and is nothing to regard lightly.

The new pigeon indictment connects the chief complaint of pigeon critics (pigeons are filthy birds) with the chief reason why other people love them (pigeons are cozy in their relations with people.)

Dr. C. J. Kao and Jan Schwarz of Jewish Hospital and Cincinnati General Hospital scraped samples of pigeon dung from window ledges and similar pigeon nesting places. Dung is the chief and often the only material of pigeon nests. In all, the scientists took samples from 107 nests.

And samples were put into nutrient solutions, and 41 strains of cryptococcus neofarmans developed. When injected into mice, 16 of the 41 killed them quickly and a 17th caused widespread disease which pointed to a fatal termination.

Relation Not Clear

Kao and Schwarz ran the strains through a considerable string of tests, even comparing them with strains which had been isolated from people in order to make sure they were dealing with the exact fungus which causes cryptococcis in people. Of that they had no doubt.

Yet, they said, 'the relation between the organism and the pigeon is not clear." They found that pigeon dung preserves the vitality of the fungus indefinitely. Yet when they injected a strain cultured from a pigeon nest into three-week - old squabs, it seemed to disappear. The scientists were unable to recover fungus from liver or spleen or lungs or the dung of the birds.

The scientists issued no public health warning. That would be out of their line. They are pathologists—specialists in disease processes and their recognition — and so they reported to American society of clinical pathologists, concentrating on the laboratory techniques they devised in their investigation which can be used for finding and idetifyig cryptococcus neofarmans in people.

Atomic Blast Knocks Helmets Off Paratroopers

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (UP)—Scientists today studied results of an atomic blast which knocked the helmets off unsheltered paratroopers stationed 2¾ miles from ground zero at the Nevada Proving Grounds.

More than 100 soldiers of the 82nd Airborne Division from Ft. Bragg, N. C. Monday lay face down as the blast, called Galileo, was fired from a 500-foot tower. The human "nerve survival" experiment marked the first time that American soldiers were placed so close to ground zero without the protection of trenches or concrete shelters.

The shot, equal to the power of 10,000 tons of TNT, was the 16th in the current series. The Atomic Energy Commission set the next test for Friday.

The AEC said the troops weathered the blast like "old veterans of nuclear warfare." Following the detonation, the troops leaped into action and ran through a short obstacle course carrying full-combat gear.

Special Election In Montgomery

HARRISBURG (UP)—A special election will be held Nov. 5 in Montgomery County to pick a successor to Cong. Samuel K. McConnell Jr.

McConnell resigned Sunday to become executive director of the United Cerebral Palsy Association, Inc. He was first elected to Congress in a special election in 1944.

The special election was called by Gov. George M. Leader, who issued a writ to the Montgomery County board of elections. Candidates must be nominated within 10 days of the date on which the governor's writ is issued.

UMW Welfare Fund Balance Is Announced

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United Mine Workers of America reported today its welfare and retirement fund had an unexpended balance of $145,321,221 at the close of the fiscal year June 30.

This was an increase of 15 million dollars over the previous year, the union said in an annual public report on the fund's operation.

Apparently taking cognizance of mismanagement charges leveled by Senate investigators against other union welfare funds, the UMWA pointed out in an accompanying statement that the fund was audited by an independent firm of certified public accountants.

It said the 40-page report containing a balance sheet of the fund had been mailed to an "extensive" list of miners, coal operators and government officials.

During the 12-month period, the report said the trustee-administered fund distributed 138 million dollars to aid 215,702 beneficiaries, including 63,000 retired miners receiving $100-a-month pensions.

The fund listed administrative costs of $3,892,000.

Church Leaders Meet At Oberlin to Talk Over Major Splits

OBERLIN, Ohio (UP) — Church leaders from all parts of North America met on the elm - shaded campus of Oberlin College today for a major effort to reunite the long-divided Christian family.

For the next eight days, they will explore the specific differences in doctrine and organization which keep Christians separated into more than 250 denominations. They will also talk about their common bonds, and will try to mark out a role toward eventual union.

Among the 47 U.S. and Canadian churches represented here, either by official delegations or by observers, are most of the leading Protestant and Orthodox denominations. The Roman Catholic church is not participating.

This "North American conference on faith and order" has been two years in preparation. More than 300 local conferences were held and 16 regional groups made intensive studies, to distill the issues which will be laid before the 420 noted theologians, ministers and lay leaders who are now gathered at Oberlin.

The conference is sponsored by the U.S. conference for the World Council of Churches, the National Council of Churches and the Canadian Council of Churches. The Rt. Rev. Angus Dun, Episcopal bishop of Washington, D.C., is chairman.

Dun told the United Press that no one expects the conference to result in an immediate wave of denominational mergers. But he expressed confidence that it will achieve "profound progress in mutual understanding" which will pave the way for later attempts to work out an actual plan of union.

Dr. Samuel McCrea Cavert, U.S. executive secretary of the World Council of Churches, said the conference is intended to "get the church unity movement down out of the theological stratosphere and on the level of practical Christian concern."

Driver Hit by Two Stock Cars; Dies on Track

MYERSTOWN, Pa. (UP) — A Lebanon County man who had been disqualified from a stock car race was killed Monday night when hit on the track at the start of the race.

Hundreds of fans at the Hilltop Speedway, north of Myerstown, saw Melvin Kreiser, North King St., Annville, father of two children, struck by at least two of the 16 cars in the event. He was pronounced dead at Good Samaritan Hospital in Lebanon of a fractured neck.

State police said Kreiser had been given 10 minutes to get his vehicle repaired after it stalled during a warm-up lap for the main event. When it was still not in operating condition, starter Marlin Keith told the public address system to announce Kreiser's disqualification.

When Keith dropped the go-ahead signal, Kreiser jumped to the track and ran across waving to the racers to stop and was hit by the cars.

Storms Moving Into Northeast From Midwest

By UNITED PRESS

Cool air and occasional severe thunderstorms advanced across the Midwest and into the Northeast today, routing a late summer heat wave.

Showers and thunderstorms ahead of the cooler air dumped an average one-fourth inch of rain during the night along a line from New York state through Ohio.

A freak storm at Columbus, Ohio, Monday night, whipped a private airfield with 80 mph winds and blew one plane into the roof of a home and damaged five other planes.

Another of the damaged planes was blown against power and telephone lines, blacking out an area southeast of Columbus.

Weathermen predicted cool air will reach near the Allegheny Mountains today with numerous showers and thunderstorms expected along the Atlantic and Gulf Coast states and the Southern Rockies. Generally fair skies are expected elsewhere.

Angler Angles Cash

HEWLETT, N.Y. (UP) — An angler with all the angles angled himself some quick cash at the Nassau bus company Monday. Police said a burlgar used a hook and line device to fish 10 bags containing $550 from a chute used for depositing fares by drivers coming off duty.

3 Memorials

In loving memory of our dear father and grandfather, Carl William Nelson, who died two years ago today, September 3, 1955
The rolling stream of life rolls on,
And still the vacant chair
Recalls the love, the voice, the smile,
Of the one who once sat there.
It is lonesome here without you,
And sad the weary way,
For life is not the same to us
Since you were called away,
Sadly missed by Children and Grandchildren.

In loving memory of our dear husband, father and grandfather, Vincent Giosue, who died one year ago, September 3, 1956.
Gone, dear father, gone forever,
How we miss your smiling face,
But you left us to remember
None on earth can take your place.
A happy home we once enjoyed,
How sweet the memory still;
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.
Sadly missed by Wife, Daughter and Granddaughter

In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, Mrs. Julia Zimmaro, who died four years ago, September 2, 1953.
Peaceful be thy rest dear mother,
It is sweet to breathe thy name,
In life we loved you dearly,
In death we do the same.
Sadly missed by Children and Grandchildren.

Hollywood Libel Trial Jury to Visit Theater

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—The Confidential criminal libel trial focused today on one of Hollywood's famed landmarks — Grauman's Chinese Theater where the magazine claimed actress Maureen O'Hara cuddled with a "Latin lover."

The jury was to journey to the theater by bus shortly after the trial resumes today in Superior Court. The six men and six women jurors were to form an "on-the-spot" opinion if it could have been possible for Miss O'Hara to have staged a torrid love scene in the loges of the theater.

Prosecutor William Ritzi claimed it would have been impossible for the "love making" described in the lurid story to have taken place in theater seats. Defense Attorney Arthur J. Crowley was just as sure the story, "It Was The Hottest Show In Town When Maureen O'Hara Cuddled In Row 35," was true in every spicy detail.

Both the prosecution and defense have made the Miss O'Hara story a major issue at the trial, now in its fifth week. The prosecution has indicated it may call the red-haired actress to the stand as a rebuttal witness.

Miss O'Hara angrily denied out-of-court that the episode ever happened.

Ritzi predicted the trial would last at least another two weeks. The trial was in recess over the Labor Day week end and will be recessed again Thursday for a day because of a crowded court calendar.

Bishop Sheen Says We Must Make Sacrifices

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (UP) — The Most Rev. Fulton J. Sheen, auxiliary bishop of New York, told a crowd of 50,000 persons Sunday that Americans are losing the "sense of discipline and self-sacrifice."

Preaching to the 23rd annual pilgrimage at the Shrine of Our Lady of Perpetual Help on the slopes of Mount St. Macrina, the bishop declared:

"If we live in Christ we must make sacrifices. Communism picked up the cross without the Lord. When the cross is separated from Christ we have dictatorship and cruelty. It is our business to keep the cross and the Lord together in our hearts and lives."

The bishop spoke at the closing of a six-day pilgrimage to Mount St. Macrina, which is the site of the motherhouse of the Sisters of St. Basil the Great.

Cordial Relations

NEW DELHI, India (UP) — A Socialist member of the Indian Parliament Monday urged the government to seek "cordial relations" between Israel and its Arab neighbors. Hem Chandra Barua said India should grant recognition to Israel as the first step toward working for relaxation of tensions.

Lightning Fire Damages Tipple

WINDBER, Pa. (UP) — Fire started by lightning destroyed a hoist house and damaged a tipple Monday at the Reitz No. 3 mine in nearby Central City, causing damage estimated at $30,000.

Company officials said a bolt of lightning struck the coal hoist during a thundershower, igniting the structure's wooden timbers. The flames leveled the hoist and spread to a tipple before firemen could bring the blaze under control.

State Hearings on Milk Are Planned

By UNITED PRESS

The U. S. Department of Agriculture will hold hearings in Philadelphia next Tuesday on proposed amendments to the tentatively approved marketing agreement for the handling of milk in the Philadelphia area.

The proposals, brought about by the prolonged drought in the state, would provide for an adjustment in the class 1 price based on the available supply of milk for the market in relation to the market requirements.

The agriculture department said it would hold the hearings in the federal court house (at 9th and Market Streets) for the purpose of hearing evidence in respect to emergency and other economic conditions relating to the price change.

The amendment, proposed by the Inter-State Milk Producers Cooperative, Inc., has not yet received the approval of the Secretary of Agriculture.

Federal Aid Sought

Meanwhile, the department is considering request of four southeastern counties for federal aid because of losses suffered during the summer long drought.

The counties of Berks, Bucks, Chester and Montgomery counties filed the requests last week for relief from the drought which C. Paul Lied, of Sinking Springs, president of the Berks County Agricultural Extension Association, estimated has caused at least 8 million dollars worth of damage in that county alone.

The state Department of Agriculture soon will begin publishing a monthly promotional bulletin for the Pennsylvania food industry.

John L. Rainey, director of the department's bureau of markets, said the bulletin is designed to encourage better planning of promotions for Pennsylvania foods and to develop broader newspaper, magazine, radio and television coverage of such promotions.

The periodical also will include a calender of food promotional events for several months following the issuance and other detailed information of interest to the food industry.

The first bulletin will be out this month.

Four Enroute to Miss America Pageant Killed

BERLIN, N. J. (UP) — Four men, enroute to Atlantic City to see the Miss America beauty pageant, were killed Monday when their single-engined plane crashed about 15 minutes after it took off from the nearby Albion Airport.

The victims were identified as Richard J. Smith, 25, of Ashland, N. J., the pilot; Robert Rita, 19, of Philadelphia,; Michael J. Guinan Jr., 24, of Deer Park, N. J and George A. Queener, 35, of Clementon, N. J.

The plane, apparently making an emergency landing, ripped down small trees before the wreckage was scattered over a wide area.

After the plane left the field, it circled around, dropped a flare and headed off in the direction of Atlantic City. Firemen fighting a blaze on the White Horse Pike saw the plane circling before it crashed. They said the pilot was still in his seat but the three passengers had been hurled out by the impact.

Five Killed, Four Hurt in One Crash

CONWAY, S.C. (UP)—Two automobiles collided at a highway intersection near here Monday killing five persons and injuring four others.

Dead were David D. Moore, 31, Nemours, W.Va.; Harold W. Jones 34, Bluefield, W.Va.; Russell Asbury, 38, Nitro, W.Va.; Durwood Edge, 36, Myrtle Beach, S.C., and Mrs. Lowvinia G. Stephens, 33, Conway, S.C.

State police said the car carrying the West Virginians pulled into the path of the other machine.

Your Nose Can Tell You to Relax When Vacation Is Over

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

Isn't it nice to get back home and relax after a vacation?

Well, you probably don't realize it, but your nose actually helps you get rid of that tension which frequently accompanies a homeward trip and the apprehension the end of a vacation sometimes brings.

The familiar smell of your own home can induce a sense of well-being and relaxation throughout your entire body.

You don't have to make a conscious effort at sniffing. In fact, you probably won't be aware of any familiar odor at all. But your nose will.

Not only is your nose the only organ that keeps growing throughout your life, it also is one of the most remarkable mechanisms of the entire body.

No laboratory instruments can equal the nose when it comes to receiving and analyzing odors at top speed. The nose can detect odors so minute that no scientific instrument can record them.

It's been estimated that a nose in good working order can recognize the odor of a strong chemical in a quantity as small as only two trillionths of a gram.

You might want to point this out to your wife the next time she wants a whole ounce of some expensive perfume.

It takes but a sniff or so for your nose to bring back some long forgotten incident. Perhaps you won't consciously recognize any odor at all. But your olfactory mechanism instantly will spur your memory into action.

The sense of smell affects both our emotions and our moods.

That's how your nose can detect the familiar soothing surroundings of your own home and let you know its time to relax.

From Broadway—

'Simply Heavenly' Is Pleasing New Show

By JACK GAVER

NEW YORK — (UP) — The new Broadway season has started with presentation at the Playhouse of "Simply Heavenly," a comedy by poet Langston Hughes about some folk in Harlem. It has interpolated songs for which Hughes wrote the words and David Martin the music.

This is an unpretentious little affair capable of generating considerable warmth now and then during its uneven dramatic journey from curtain to curtain. The material thins to the point of emaciation at times, but when this happens a singing comedienne named Claudia McNeil usually comes to the rescue.

Miss McNeil is a solidly built woman who has been around Harlem for a number of years and is well known there. But somehow the Broadway managers have overlooked her. This is not likely to happen again because Miss McNeil, both as singer and a master of comedy technique, makes such an impression in this show that people should be waving contracts at her from now on.

Miss McNeil plays a steady customer of Paddy's Bar in the show and actually has nothing to do with furthering the modest story. But she sparks things along in comedy exchanges with the also excellent John Boue (another good singer) until such time as a song comes her way, then she really takes charge and the script ceases to matter.

Source of Play

She has an extremely low register, but she also can get a fairly high quality when needed. There seems to be nothing she can't do with her voice and no type of song she can't handle. She is great.

Hughes' story is based on the newspaper columns he has written for several years about a lovable young Harlemite named Jess Simple and which have been published in book form. The particular line followed here is Jess' efforts to get enough money to divorce his long estranged wife so he can marry the gentle Joyce.

Melvin Stewart is an excellent Simple. Marilyn Berry does the best she can with Joyce, who has been poorly served by the author, Stanley Greene. Duke Williams, Charles A. McRae, Anna English and Josephine Woods are helpful.

Raymond Sovey designed new sets for the production, which came to Broadway after a few weeks in a off-Broadway house uptown last spring. It was closed here by city officials because the auditorium did not meet safety regulations. Joshua Shelley directed.

Generally, it is an uneven show with several delightful highlights that should please those who are not too demanding. And Miss McNeil should please everyone.

TV NOTES

NEW YORK — (UP) — Rod Serling, prolific TV - playwright, has sold a new one to "Playhouse 90" for its second CBS production on Sept 19. The title is "The Dark Side of Earth," dealing with the uprising in Hungary. The chief protagonist is a Russian officer under orders to quell the revolt.

The fourth year of "Shower of Stars" on CBS starts Oct. 11 with Jack Benny as head man of the hour-long live musical variety show. Carol Channing and Fred MacMurray will be guest stars.

A filmed adventure series made in England, with Merle Oberon as narrator-star, has been scheduled by CBS for the 10:30 p. m. spot Saturdays, starting Sept. 14. The title is "Assignment: Foreign Legion." Miss Oberon plays a foreign correspondent.

Miss America Show On Saturday Night

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UP) — The Miss America pageant, a kind of Ed Sullivan show with legs, wiggles into view this Saturday night.

And according to Doug Edwards, who'll be calling the play for CBS-TV in a special 90-minute telecast, home peekers this year will get a slicker program than when ABC-TV was handling the proceedings. ABC-TV had beamed the pageant the past three years.

"I've seen kinescopes of the ABC shows," said Edwards today, "And I think we can do a better job. We'll have more camera placements and we're going to try to improve the sound.

An Evesdropper

"The whole trouble in past years was that TV—although not quite an uninvited guest—was not quite a real guest either. TV was kind of an eavesdropper. It had poor vantage points for its cameras, for example, which is pretty absurd when you consider it's the eyes of 20 million people."

This September, for the first time, TV will have its anchor platform right in the audience. It'll be about 15 feet high and 15 rows back in the audience. Edwards and a co-spieler, Bess Meyerson, will occupy the perch along with a camera. Miss Meyerson is a former Miss America herself.

There will also be a CBS camera on stage, two on the main ramp and another in the audience. The large old - fashioned microphones which often obliterated the girls will be removed this year and thin pencil mikes substituted.

All Ad-Lib

"The tough thing about working a show like this, of course, is that it's 90-minutes of ad-lib," observed Edwards. "And we can't have any kind of rehearsal because we don't know what acts will be on the air."

There are 51 beauties engaged in the Atlantic City joust this year and their talents come in almost as many varieties as salami. Twelve girls plan to give dramatic readings, 13 will sing, seven will tackle instruments, nine will dance, two will sing and read, two will sing and dance, one will play an instrument and sing, one will tumble, one twirl a baton and three non-musical types will deliver lectures on painting.

Mercifully, viewers will be spared this complete parade of goodies. CBS-TV will limit itself to showing the 10 semi-finalists. However, it plans to show this batch completely instead of cutting away occasionally as in previous telecasts.

"We'll have beauty, talent and excitement," said Edwards, who this season will branch out as narrator of CBS-TV's "Armstrong Circle Theatre." "What we're hoping to wind up with is a kind of off-the-cuff spectacular."

Steel Production Is Increased Over 1956

CLEVELAND (UP) — The nation's mills produced a total 2,112,000 net tons of steel last week, pushing the all-time record for first eight months of any year to 78.6 million tons.

The figure represented a 6.2 million-ton increase over the corresponding period for 1956, according to Steel magazine.

Last week's yield—82.5 per cent of rated industrial capacity—continued the steady advance of three consecutive weeks and prompted hopes among producers that output would continue uphill.

The weekly magazine predicted "significant improvement" in steel demand would begin during the last quarter among producers of machine tools, foundry equipment and industrial furnaces.

Steel said the tool builders are most optimistic because of reports about three "major" automotive projects, tooling for which would have to be ordered this fall.

Foundries will probably increase buying, Steel predicted, because of renewed demands for castings from railroad car builders and giants among the automotive and appliance producers.

The metalworking weekly also pointed with encouragement to July machine tool orders, which climbed to their highest point since March, amounting to $55,850,000. Also, order cancellations were reported at their lowest level in 21 months, totaling $3,500,000.

Completion of inventory reduction and an upturn in demand from the automotive industry indicate that producers will be virtually assured of a pickup in activity, Steel said.

Users last week began paying a new high price for steel because of a 7 per cent boost in freight charges. Also, Kaiser Steel Corp., of Oakland, Calif., advanced prices $1 per ton on some products even though it raised in a steady line with the rest of the industry in July.

The continent of Asia has the largest population in the world, but the lowest per capita production and consumption of leather footwear.

The two Doctors Sterrett, son and father, read of graduate fellowship in The Netherlands.

Local Man to Study In the Netherlands

Dr. Kay Fife Sterret, son of the former Monessen High School principal, has received a fellowship to study at the world famous physics laboratory at the University of Leyden in the Netherlands.

Dr. Sterrett, who is a physical chemist with the mineral products division of the National Bureau of Standards in Washington, D. C., plans to leave by plane around Oct. 1 for the year of study.

The fellowship for graduate study was one of three granted by The Netherlands government to American scientists. Dr. Sterrett was offered the coveted award even though he did not apply for it.

At the University of Leyden, Dr. Sterrett will work in the internationally-famous low temperature laboratory, described as the coldest spot in the world.

Anxious to Leave

Temperatures of almost absolute zero are reached in the lab, permitting scientists to examine the properties of metals and alloys at low temperatures. This is the type of work Dr. Sterrett will do during his stay overseas.

In addition to free tuition at the University, the Monessen chemist will receive 2,500 "guilders" to cover living expenses. It takes about 3.8 "guilders" to equal an American dollar, but the buying power of a "guilder" is roughly equivalent to a U. S. dollar.

"I'm naturally looking forward to this experience," said Dr. Sterrett, who already has a long list of academic achievements to his credit.

Valedictorian Here

The young chemist was graduated as valedictorian of the Monessen High School Class of 1949. He received his bachelor of science degree in chemistry from the University of Pittsburgh in 1953, graduating summa cum laude.

He earned his doctor of philosophy degree at Pitt in June of this year and a short time later joined the National Bureau of Standards in Washington.

Dr. Sterrett has won the Buhl Planetarium Science Key, Bausch and Lomb Science Award, and Rensselaer Mathematics and Science Award. He is a member of three national scientific societies: Society of Sigma Xi, Phi Lambda Upsilon and Sigma Pi Sigma.

He is the son of Mrs. and Dr. K. Fife Sterrett, of 1428 Graham Ave. who was the Monessen High School principal until two years ago. The elder Dr. Sterrett is now a professor of education at California State Teachers College.

'Right-to-know' Laws Effective

HARRISBURG (UP)—Pennsylvania's newspapermen were armed today with two new "right-to-know" laws for their coverage of local and state affairs.

The statutes passed by the 1957 Legislature and effective Sunday are designed to throw open meetings of municipal bodies and school boards and some key state agencies, and to make records available to the public.

On the state level, the opening meeting law applies to the General State Authority, the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission and agencies having to do primarily with expenditure of funds.

The other new law requires that all records of all state and local boards, commissions, authorities and departments be open.
